Forest Preserve Picks River Site for Second Center

Wheeling Area to Get Nature Study Center

Cook County Forest Preserve will build a second nature study center this summer.

The $56,000 center will be located on the Des Plaines river in Lake Avenue Woods, 2 miles southeast of Wheeling.

Charles C. Estes, chief engineer of the Forest Preserve, said this week bids will be opened soon for construction of 2 buildings and parking area.

The center should be completed by October 1, Estes said.

PATTERNED AFTER the preserve's Little Red schoolhouse in southwestern Cook county, the Lake Avenue center will include a nature museum and employ a naturalist to conduct school groups and individuals on nature walks through the woods.

Buildings will be constructed near the east bank of the river on the site of the now-abandoned Northwest Settlement camping area.

Access to the center is gained by a dirt road leading off Milwaukee ave. a half mile south of the Milwaukee-River rd. intersection.

IMPROVEMENTS include construction of a $40,000 main building, $16,000 cottage and parking facilities, Estes said.

Trails will be cleared through thick woods for close-up looks at wildlife and vegetation, he said.

The center would open in April and close in November, the same schedule as the Little Red Schoolhouse which last year attracted 45,000 visitors.

The center will be open to school groups and scouting organizations for study and collection of nature items used in classroom and merit badge work, Estes said.

WHILE THE MOST abundant attraction at the center will be plant life, fish in glass tanks and stuffed wildlife are planned. Many plants and trees will be marked by indentification tags.

The Lake Avenue woods project is the second nature center in the county's 42,00 acres of forest preserve.

THIS RIVER-BANK SITE southeast of Wheeling has been picked by the Forest Preserve for location of the district's second nature study center. The center, to be open to the public 8 months of the year, is scheduled to be completed by October.

Those who receive heavy tax bills should know that our taxing bodies are asking for over 7 million dollars from the property owners of Wheeling, Palatine and Elk Grove townships.

The Metropolitan Sanitary District is asking for $157,232, of which Elk Grove pays $73,000, Wheeling $46,482 and Palatine $35,755. We feel that with such a tax bite the Sanitary District should waste no time in extending its services to the areas which are paying the bill, but are not yet receiving any benefit.

Mt. Prospect has twice the industrial area of Arlington. Palatine will soon be in a somewhat similar position, but Arlington will get more than a few crumbs by the completion of the Illinois Bell accounting office at which a cornerstone ceremony was held Tuesday.

The payroll of its employees will be $850,000 a year, which in turn should be beneficial to local business and, in turn, will increase sales tax receipts for the village.

Pure Oil may have only a lease arrangement on the office building which Trude Land Development co. is erecting on State road for its temporary office use, but is it possible Arlington is getting in commercial development what it is missing in industry?

We are not taking sides on the industrial zoning seeking admittance to Wilson school district. If its taxpayers prefer to pay school taxes on their own in place of letting industry take over part of that burden, they have a right to do so. In turn, can they complain on the size of their tax bill?

Palatine road could become an industrial area in place of more and more homes.

Wilson community kindergarten association is to be commended. In place of turning to raffles, sales or entertainment to raise funds, they are arranging a series of forums that will deal with such specific topics as introducing children to art, books, music and other artistic and intellectual interests.

Sydney J. Harris will be the speaker at the first session which will be held at Wilson school, Palatine rd., Thursday at 8:30. Admission charge will be $1.

We hope that technicalities will not delay the acceptance by Palatine of the Winston tract of 750 acres lying between Palatine and Arlington Heights. In our estimation the developers have made a fair offer, one that will aid the schools, providing a large tax potential in assessed valuation and sales tax receipts as well as an industrial area which is greatly needed.

We heard an alderman of an adjoining village say Tuesday, "Officials in whose hands rest changes in zoning and development should not be swayed by a comparatively small opposition group."

If Winston is forced to go on its own, Palatine schools will lose special contributions for each home erected and the village a lot of tax revenue and assessed valuation.

The initial water plant being erected and a 250,000 gallon storage reservoir will be a welcomed addition to the Palatine water system. Palatine trustees have been negotiating with Winston for some time.

The tentative agreement resulting from those sessions deserves consideration.

State aid has helped to whip the terror of polio. Senate Bill No. 440 provides for a somewhat similar service to those afflicted with rheumatic fever. Our physicians have cooperated fully in the polio program. We see no reason why they would not do the same for those with rheumatic fever.

Some legislators may label it "socialized medicine," but in our estimation, rheumatic fever is too dangerous a disease to allow that cry to deny indigent children the privilege of a normal life.

IN OBSERVANCE of the 10th anniversary of the Arlington Heights Community Concert association, Mayor Edward G. Carlisle (left) has proclaimed the week of May 13-18 as "Community Concert week." With him are Mrs. T. O. Grisell, general chairman of the membership campaign and Gale Blocki, Jr., president. During the week the association will conduct a membership campaign from headquarters in Allen's Paint store, 11 W. Davis.

TENTH ANNIVERSARY

Five Area Mayors Laud Community Concerts

Mayors of 5 northwest area communities have joined together to laud the Arlington Heights Community Concert association as a cultural asset as the association marks its tenth anniversary.

MAYOR EDWARD G. Carlisle of Arlington Heights has proclaimed the week of May 13-18 as "Community Concert week." Other civic dignitaries who have given the group their personal endorsement include Theodore A. Lams, village president of Mt. Prospect, Howard Olsen, village president of Palatine; John S. Northcote, mayor of Rolling Meadows, and A. R. McIntyre, village president of Wheeling.

Gale Blocki Jr., president of the association, announced that a membership campaign for the 1957-58 concert season will be conducted May 13 through 18. Headquarters will be in Allen's Paint store, 11 W. Davis, Arlington Heights.

Membership for the coming season, as in past seasons, is to be by subscription only. Membership lists will be closed Saturday, May 18.

AN ARTIST selection board will meet on the Sunday following the end of the campaign. Artist preferences expressed by the membership during the past season (numbering 1,225 adults and students) will guide the selection. A major symphony orchestra presentation and 4 other attractions are anticipated in next year's program. Russell Rokahr, a Community Concert representative in the New York office of the nationwide organization, will assist local officers in making the selections.

FORTY-ONE concerts have been presented in the Arlington high school auditorium during the past 9 seasons.

Included were the Cincinatti symphony, the Vienna Akademie Chor, William Kappell, De la Fuente and Stessin, Lois Marshall, Mata and Hari, Marina Svetlova, Eugene Conley and others from the Columbia Artists' Management roster of more than 150 artists.

Fire Razes Barns

Two barns were consumed but a home saved by the action of Arlington Heights firemen in a spectacular blaze late Sunday night.

The home of Thomas R. Gillen, 102 S. Patton, was endangered only briefly as barns at the rear flared out of control.

Sanitary District

Seeks Dismissal Of Village Suit

(CNS) —The Metropolitan Sanitary District of Greater Chicago has moved to dismiss a suit that would make it an unwanted entity in Arlington Heights.

Lawrence J. Fenlon, principal assistant attorney for the district, contended the village filed the wrong type of action in seeking to keep the sanitary district out of Arlington Heights.

He asked the Superior court to agree with him that the first move should have been a quo warranto action asking by what right the sanitary district was taking over.

FENLON ALSO maintained the legislature acted within the constitution in setting up a referendum approved last November in which the sanitary district was enlarged to include nearly all of Cook county — including Arlington Heights.

The next step in court is up to the village to ask a hearing on the dismissal motion, Fenlon said.

Hugo J. Thal, village attorney, lists a dozen reasons why Arlington Heights wants nothing to do with the metropolitan sanitary district.

ONE IS DOUBLE taxation. A bonded indebtedness of more than $500,000 remains on its modern treatment works. The sanitary district doesn't want the plant and has made no provision to pay the debt, Thal says.

Another is that the legislature arbitrarily included Arlington Heights in what the village contends turned out to be a "forced marriage" while excluding several south Cook county communities which also have their own sewage treatment facilities.

The vote to expand the metropolitan sanitary district lost in Arlington Heights but carried overall in the county.

Southside Paper Pickup Saturday

Boy Scouts of Arlington Heights will conduct their regular paper drive Saturday morning, May 11, in all areas south of Northwest highway.

All papers and magazines must be tied in small bundles and placed at the curb before 9 a.m. Persons living outside the pick-up area may bring bundles to the junior high school before noon Saturday.

Hugo J. Thal Resigns; New Village Attorney!

Newcomer Jurco Is 'Surprised'

Stephen Jurco, appointed Arlington Heights village attorney Tuesday, might be tabbed a relative "newcomer" to the village. He's lived here only 3½ years.

His more-or-less recent arrival is a bit of background he shares with most of the new crop of village officials installed this week. They and thousands of others seeking a place in the suburbs formed the postwar migration that more than tripled the village's population in the last decade.

And, again in common with many of the postwar arrivals, Jurco brings a fresh, perhaps wider outlook and keen civic interest to village government.

Although a busy Loop attorney with offices at 11 S. LaSalle, Jurco has in his brief span pitched into community activities. His wife Dee also participates in civic affairs as a member of the Arlington-Mt. Prospect chapter of the League of Women Voters when not occupied tending to the needs of 3-year-old Stephen, Jr.

Husband and wife diligently poured through legal tomes and interviewed experts while studying the village manager form of government last year. They worked with different committees, however, Jurco with a group of lawyers drafting an ordinance and his wife on a League project.

Whether or not there were "discussions" over the Jurco breakfast table is unknown, but the 2 committees produced remarkably similar reports.

THE GRAY-HAIRED lawyer was one of the early supporters of the village manager plan but since the adoption of the plan by state statute last fall he has devoted more time to other interests. He has talked to many groups about the need for a Family Service association and is a stalwart of the local Rotary chapter.

For the latter he helped organize the Tip Top Teen contest now under way.

Since receiving a law degree from De Paul university in Chicago in 1935, the 43-year-old Jurco has put his legal energies into a general civil practice.

While he has held no previous village office, he has appeared before governmental boards of at least a dozen varieties and last August was retained by Arlington Heights as special counsel in the village's case against the Consumer company ready-mix plant on Northwest highway.

The Stonegate resident took time out during World War II and spent 2 years overseas in the army Counter-Intelligence corps and is now a director of its "alumni" group.

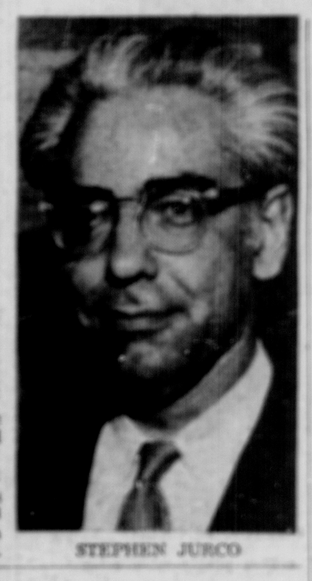
OTHER AFFILIATIONS include the Chicago, Illinois and American Bar associations, the local Chamber of Commerce and Faith Lutheran church.

As to the manner of his appointment, Jurco professed his "surprise" at his selection and said he had taken no part in the recent and hectic campaign.



STEPHEN JURCO

Hugo J. Thal, who began handling Arlington Heights legal affairs 2 years before America's entry into World War I, stepped down as village attorney Tuesday.

Thal was appointed in 1915 and held the position continuously for 42 years.

WITH HIS retirement, a third veteran village official departs from the scene. Albert W. Goedke turned over the reins of village government to Mayor Carlisle at the Tuesday meeting and William F. Meyer, a fixture at village hall for nearly 30 years, will retire as treasurer the middle of the month.

Among them, the 3 men who had watched the village transformed from a country hamlet into a bustling suburban city could count nearly a century in village service.

IN HIS FINAL words to the village, Goedke said:

"I've enjoyed every bit of my 24 years of public office and want to thank all with whom I've worked . . . We still have a village to be proud of."

Thal expressed his willingness to assist his sucessor and also said he would complete a few pending legal matters. The new village board then voted its appreciation to both Thal and Goedke.

Police Magistrate William F. Neumann administered the oath of office to Carlisle, Trustees Wendell L. Prunty, Robert H. Bukowski and Melvin L. Kurtz and Village Clerk Mrs. Mildred O. Pearson. On behalf of the 3 holdover trustees a resolution listing the actions of the village board over the past 2 years was offered and passed. (Its substance is contained in an article elsewhere in this issue).

OTHER CARLISLE appointments, all confirmed by the board, were:

Robert W. Philips, 538 S. Pine, zoning commission member named chairman of the commission; replacing retiring William F. Meyer;

Robert E. Esbensen, 1415 E. Kensington, and M. John Manos, 214 W. Mueller, to the architectural commission, replacing Harry Bierma, Jr. and Carl Anderson;

Harold W. Dotts, 600 Banbury, to 3 year term on fire and police commission replacing Dr. J. A. Cousins and Fred J. Scheuner, reappointed to 1 year term on commission;

Earl G. Iverson and Floyd Brodahl, reappointed to the plan examination committee.

Wayward Crane Blacks Out Area

A wayward crane on a construction job in Cumberland came into contact with a power line Thursday and cut off electricity in Mt. Prospect, Arlington Heights and Palatine for about a half hour.

Mike Bolton, manager of power service for Public Service, said the only casualty from the break was a slight arm burn to a laborer who bumped into the crane as it touched the wire. The crane was lifting concrete buckets being used on a foundation-pouring job.

A DISRUPTION of service extended from Cumberland to the east edge of Barrington and stopped publication of newspapers in Paddock Publications' Arlington Heights office for about 30 minutes.

Telephone service continued as normal as the central phone exchanges automatically switched over to diesel and battery sources of current.

Boy, 12, Pedestrian Are Hurt in Auto Collisions

A 12-year-old boy from Prospect Meadows was thrown from his bicycle and injured while on his way to Arlington Heights junior high school Wednesday morning.

Police said Kenneth Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank G. Anderson, 612 Bunting ln., was involved in a collision with an auto driven by Terrence Quigley, 305 N. Main, Mt. Prospect. The accident occurred as the car was passing the boy in front of 1550 E. Foundry rd. about 7:20 a.m.

The youth was taken to Resurrection hospital for treatment of a scalp laceration and further examination.

A WOMAN pedestrian was knocked to the pavement by an auto as she crossed Dunton st. at Campbell st. about 6:15 p.m. Tuesday. Mrs. Raymond H. Froehler, 908 S. Mitchell, was struck by a car driven by William A. Harner, 1508 S. Douglas, Hatlen Heights, according to police. The extent of her injuries was unknown by police Wednesday morning. She was in Resurrection hospital.

Special Police Officer Michael Faar, on duty directing traffic at the intersection at the time, said he had just walked to his usual post in the center of the intersection and did not see Mrs. Froehler crossing from the northeast corner to the northwest corner when he waved the northbound Harner auto through the intersection.

Hoover Challenges Mayor's Leadership in Appointment

Trustee John Hoover, one of 3 holdover members of the Arlington Heights village board, challenged the leadership of Mayor Carlisle and his 3 trustees only minutes after their installation Tuesday.

The issue was Carlisle's appointment of 2 architects to the architectural commission, an advisory body to the village board. Hoover tried to block the appointment, claiming that no reason has been shown for discharge of incumbent members Harry Bierma, Jr. and Carl W. Anderson.

CARLISLE countered that the incumbents could be replaced "at the will" of the village board and presented the names of M. John Manos, 214 W. Mueller, and Robert W. Esbensen, 1415 E. Kensington, for approval.

The new and the old trustees also differed on necessary qualifications for appointment: Hoover favoring a layman for the job while Carlisle held out for an architect.

Esbensen is an architect for the Chicago Y. M. C. A. while Manos has an office in the village and also is employed by Nicol and Nicol, architects for Prospect High school.

THESE TWO were finally approved on a 3-2 straight party vote, Hoover and McKay being outvoted by Prunty, Bukowski and Kurtz.

Trash Pickup

A rubbish pick-up will be made on the north side of Arlington Heights on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week, according to F. R. Buechner, village manager.

Tin cans, glass, paper and similar items will be collected but furniture and discarded appliances will not be accepted he said.

Trash was collected on the south side this week.

Teen Politicians Stump for Votes

"My qualifications for election to this responsible position include a varied background of civic experience and a broad and selfless interest in bringing you, the citizens of our fair village . . ."

No, the elections aren't going to be held all over again in Arlington Heights. But something akin to these sentiments may be heard Tuesday at Arlington high school.

That day students will jam the gymnasium to hear speeches from a flock of candidates in a mock eletcion for village offices. Wednesday the entire student body will vote for their favorites and May 21, "Citizenship Day," the winning candidates will be in full control at the Arlington village hall.

THE VILLAGE Rotary club is sponsoring the affair to create interest in local government among the teens. It is a part of a 3-point program aimed at the young people of the community. The club is now celebrating its first anniversary.

Rotarians will award a one-year scholarship to an Illinois state college or university to a student from Arlington high school, not yet selected, and is presently screening 13 candidates to pick a "Tip Top Teen" for Arlington Heights. (AJF

Father Appeals to Board For Action on Miner St.

A father has appealed to the Arlington Heights village board for action to remedy a condition which nearly caused serious injury or worse to his 19-month-old son.

The letter of Kenneth E. Behn of 202 N. Lincoln ln. was read to trustees at the village board meeting Tuesday. Behn wrote that a car passing down Miner st. dislodged a rock in the street on a recent Friday afternoon and the rock crashed through a bathroom window of the Behn home. The glass fell all about his son, in the room at the time, but luckily did not injure him.

"Had you seen the room and the position of the glass particles, I know you would agree that only a guiding hand saved him," wrote Behn.

THE PRESENT condition of the street is "a menace," he contended and asked the board to take steps to repair the street. Trustee James E. Millay said that the matter of paving Miner st. by special assessment has been discussed and is pending. Some objectors to assessment of property owners appeared at a recent informal hearing.

Behn's plea was referred to committee. (AJF

Illinois Bell's New Building Is Dedicated Here

Arlington Heights civic leaders joined Illinois Bell Telephone company representatives Tuesday in dedicating the company's new Arlington Heights revenue accounting offfice building at 44 S. Vail ave.

Ground was broken for the 2-story and basement structure last July. Built of reinforced concrete with face brick trim, the office cost almost $800,000.

The new building will house more than 200 accounting employees who will handle telephone bill processing and other accounting functions for about 167,000 customers served by this office.

C. A. CARDWELL, district revenue accountant for Illinois Bell, will head the new office. Speaking to about 40 guests and company officials who met in the almost-completed building shortly before noon, Cardwell stated that most accounting operations in this area will move into the new location in late July.

"About half of the accountng force needed in our new office now is working in the telephone building on Eastman st.," he said. "In addition, we will hire about 100 new employees from this area within the next few months, to round out our force."

The Arlington Heights accounting office next year will handle billing details for about 54 million telephone calls, Cardwell said.

ARLINGTON Heights Village President Ed Carlisle then joined Cardwell in depositing a number of items in a metal box which was sealed within the cornerstone of the building. These included a current telephone directory, a scroll with signatures of all guests, copies of current newspapers, and telephone accounting department data.

A novel memento which was sealed away for posterity was a tape recording of each guest voicing his or her name and affiliation. A letter from Village President Carlisle, commenting on the importance of the new office building to Arlington Heights, also was sealed in the cornerstone box.

AT A LUNCHEON held in the Rolling Green country club following the dedication ceremony, Illinois Bell's division accounting manager J. E. Wax, explained many of the modern accounting methods employed by the telephone company.

"In addition," he said, "We believe this new office will bring many advantages to Arlington Heights and the customers we serve here. For example, annual wages of more than 850,000 will be paid to accounting employees in the new office. Taxes and other local expenditures also will benefit the community." (AF

First Baptists Hold Baptismal Service May 5

First Baptist Church of Arlington Heights held baptismal service at 7 p.m. May 5 in the South Community Baptist Church of Mt. Prospect. Harold Retzke offered the invocation prayer and read New Testament references on baptism. Rev. George I. Beckstrom, pastor, gave a brief message on "Baptism."

Music included "Beside Still Waters" an anthem by the choir and "Take My Life" a sopra) solo, accompanied by Mrs. R. J. Truelsen at the organ.

The 9 candidates who entered into the baptismal waters included Mr. and Mrs. Nils Lindstrom, Grant Broome, Nancy Jean Rosenthal, Judy Gaskins, Kenneth Gaskins, Buster LeVine, Fred Bedford and Daniel Bedford. (A

Sidelights Of Arlington Heights

May Bride-Elect

Miss Cheryl Sparling and her fiance, Garet Ten Cate of Shaker Heights, Ohio, will be feted Friday at a 7 p.m. rehearsal dinner-party at Arlington House to be given by Mr. Ten Cate's parents, the Sidney L. Ten Cates of Butler, Pa.

Members of the bridal party attending will be Mr. and Mrs. William Vavroch of Columbus, Ohio, the Misses Barbara Sheets, Myra Landmeier, Nancy Wood and Brenda Rudolph, all of Arlington Heights, Bruce Mixer of Butler, Pa., and Richard Sparling, brother of the bride-elect. Also attending will be Mrs. Walter Stryker and daughter, Judith, and Miss Dorothy Doerr, all from Pittsburgh, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Mueller of Inverness and Mr. and Mrs. Richard H. Sparling of Arlington Heights, parents of the bride-elect.

Surprise Bridal Shower

Miss Barbara Schmitz, daughter of the Carl E. Schmitzes of 1300 Clarendon, was given a surprise miscellaneous bridal shower Friday at 8 p.m. by Miss Sandy Gage, 345 Bristol lane. Twelve former highschool friends were present.

Table decorations for the party were done in yellow and white, with a miniature bridal scene setting the atmosphere for the occasion. Bridesmaids dressed in yellow surrounded the central figure of the bride, who stood poised above her attendants in an archway covered with miniature white carnations. Greenery, palms and white candles completed the picture.

The hallway of the Gage home was also done in the shower colors, and a large yellow sprinkling can decorated with flowers and tulle suspended in mid-air greeted the guests. The stairway railing was hung with smaller-sized silver and yellow sprinkling cans, which later were presented to those attendng as souvenirs.

Traveling

Your Precious Furs
now!

This is the time to have us pick up your precious furs . . . and STORE THEM in our modern vaults . . . where they will be safe from the harmful effects of a dank, warm closet or basement. Since we are fur experts we can REPAIR or RESTYLE fur garments skillfully and at modest cost. We will advise you in this regard at no cost. Even without seeing your furs we recommend that you HOLLANDERIZE them to remove the dust and grime to which all outer garments are susceptible. The lining, too, will be made spotlessly clean.

THE FUR ON THIS GARMENT HAS BEEN HOLLANDERIZED
REGISTERED NUMBER 1001

This tag with its registered number is sealed to your garment as your guarantee that it has been Hollanderized.

This year we offer you the advantages of Hollanderizing's new "Built-In Finish" on Muskrat garments or "Silicone Finish" on all other furs, for like-new lustre, lush softness and crush resistance that lasts. These new finishes are part of our Hollanderizing service at no extra charge.

Stonegate Maps Fight on Lodge

A legal complaint to block the erection of a Masonic lodge in Arlington Heights Stonegate subdivision is in the rough draft stage, a subdivision spokesman said this week.

Atty. Paul V. Harris, chairman of a lawyers' committee leading the Stonegate campaign, said that some work remains before an action against the lodge proposal can be legally filed.

The lodge would be erected for the use of the local Masonic chapter by the Century club, a Masonic affiliate. The design of the building is modern, in striking contrast to Stonegate colonial-style homes flanking on the east side of Dryden pl., near Northwest hwy.

THE CENTURY club was granted a permit to erect the $42,000 structure on April 13 and no work has been done at the site. The building would occupy part of 3 lots and the remainder plus a fourth lot would provide parking space for 35 autos.

The entire east side of Dryden is zoned for class B multiple dwellings, fraternal and other uses) but single family homes were erected on some lots within the last decade.

Harris said the Stonegate legal action could either try to void the building permit or attack the validity of the class B zoning on the property, so zoned for a number of years. (AF

Inspect Bikes At 8 Schools This Week

Arlington Heights police and Parent-Teacher associations and mothers' clubs are holding their semi-annual bicycle safety inspection at 8 public and parochial elementary schools this and next week.

Police inspect the vehicles for proper operation of brakes, handlebars, forks, wheels, chains, signals and seats and the women apply reflector tape to the rear fender and forks. Police point out the reflector tape is a safety "must" to safeguard bike riders on dark days and in the hours of dusk.

THIS WEEK the inspection teams are working at public schools. Next week they will visit the 3 parochial schools. Police are also checking on bike licenses, required to aid in the recovery of lost or stolen vehicles. Licenses cost 50 cents. (A was Manos' appearance before the village board April 23 to complain about published bid specifications for the municipal garage. Manos said he had "encouraged" 5 firms manufacturing fabricated steel buildings to bid on the garage. They had refused, he said, because of a clause which apparently stated that an architect for a sixth firm (which drew up the specifications) would supervise the job no matter what firm won the contract.

Manos said such a clause was contrary to the usual practice and at his insistence the specifications were revised to eliminate it and another set of bids called for.

Sen. Douglas Emphasizes Need for Aid to Education

"Material needs are postponable but human needs are not, and that is why I favor federal aid to education," declared Senator Paul A. Douglas, addressing educators attending the annual northern Illinois conference on supervision at Northern Illinois State college last week.

Delivering the dinner address entitled, "Education and the Federal Government," Douglas discussed the "pros" and "cons" o federal aid to our schools, emphasizing that the present proposed legislation provides help for school construction rather than funds for teachers' salaries, transportation, or textbooks.

"The Powell Amendment, one of the stumbling blocks to the recent federal aid bill's passage," Douglas said, "stipulates that aid should not be granted to any districts permitting segregation in the classroom after the recent Supreme Court decision outlawing it."

He told his listeners that the recent federal aid bill designed to ease the classroom shortage passed the House by a 220-190 vote before the Powell amendment was added, but, it was defeated by a 230-180 count after the amendment became a part of the bill.

He blamed Republicans for at least a good share of this defeat reporting that 146 of them voted for the Powell amendment and then 96 voted against the complete bill with the Amendment added.

"IF THE POWELL amendment is tacked on to this much-needed legislation when it comes up again, I shall have to vote for the bill anyway, because my conscience will not allow me to do otherwise," Douglas said.

"I would have preferred federal funds to help teachers' salaries," the senator emphasized "but by giving federal support to the much-needed building program to ease the acute shortage of classrooms, we are eliminating much of the objection, including fears of those who cry that 'with Federal aid will come federal control' and the problem of pitting the public schools against the paro-chial for federal help."

The senator said he hoped the bill, if passed in its present form, would enable the states and local districts to divert more funds to salaries for teachers and administrators.

HE UPBRAIDED foes of the current legislation, citing the United States chamber of commerce and the National Association of Manufacturers for their claims that there is no shortage of classrooms in our schools today.

Douglas also referred to the thousands of children who are now attending half-day session in overloaded buildings and the problems faced in expanding suburban districts lacking the taxing power to finance their own school needs. (B10

Area Painters to Exhibit Work in June 28-29 Show

An art exhibition featuring works of painters from all northwest suburbs will be staged June 28 and 29 in Prospect Heights shopping center, it was announcd Tuesday by Joseph Schneller, president of Schneller Furniture co.

The show will be held in Schneller's store and co-sponsored by Austin Paint co., Heights Liquors, and Town and Country apparel shop, all of Prospect Hts.

The exhibition will be limited to water color and oil paintings.

THERE WILL be separate divisions for children and adults, although high school students will be eligible to chose which division they wish to enter.

A $100 cash prize will be awarded the show's best painting. Two honorable mention awards will be made in both children's and adult divisions.

Schneller said artists may enter as many examples of their work as they desire, and any work can be placed on sale if the painter so desires.

Deadline for entries will be Monday, June 24.

ARTISTS MAY also exhibit work without competing for the $100 first prize if they so desire.

A $50 special prize will be presented for the show's "most popular" painting. Award will be based on ballots of show visitors, who will vote for favorite works.

Schneller added that this will become an annual affair if response to the initial effort is favorable. (B7

$727,736 Personal Property Tax Levy

Taxes in 3 Suburbs Exceed $7 Million, 70% to Schools

Paddock Publications this week presents some interesting tax figures which give an insight into the total tax anticipated in dollars and cents by schools in Wheeling, Palatine, and Elk Grove townships.

The total charged to real estate is more than $7 million.

The personal property tax figures are not included, but they amount to $737,736. Payment of that much-disputed tax amounts to considerable income for schools.

IF ALL TAXPAYERS discarded their personal property tax bills, Arlington high school would lose $215,279; Palatine high school $32,887; Palatine school district 15 would lose $52,141; Mt. Prospect school district 57 $52,277.79; and smaller school districts would lose in proportion.

This means that from 60 to 70 per cent of taxes go to schools.

The mosquito abatement district recently formed has a tax extension of nearly $23,000 in Wheeling; $11,918 in Palatine; and $8,216 in Elk Grove.

Taxes for the sanitary district total $157,232.

The tuberculosis institute takes a total of $128,933 from the 3 townships.

Schaumburg total real estate tax is $221,884. School district 54 share is $100,318. It also contributes $79,097 to Palatine high school.

REAL ESTATE taxes extended to other elementary schools are:

School Dist. 15	$750,451.
School Dist. 18	5,983.
School Dist. 21	180,860.
School Dist. 23	132,182.
School Dist. 24	70,241.
School Dist. 25	876,689.
School Dist. 26	30,335.
School Dist. 27	25,306.
School Dist. 56	28,077.
School Dist. 57	597,419.
School Dist. 59	132,926.

	Wheeling	Elk Grove	Palatine
Total Elementary Schools	$1,510,241	$ 570,822	$ 743,428
Arlington High School	1,246,988	451,894	157,107
Palatine High School	.....	.....	468,880
Total R.E. tax extended	3,792,265	1,419,510	1,805,396
Personal Property Tax	495,974	105,853	125,909

(Palatine high school tax includes both Palatine and Schaumburg. Arlington Heights high school total tax is $1,855,989.)

Assessor Slaps Boughner Bills

Palatine township tax assessor Oliver Dilks this week pointed to shortcomings in 2 bills pending before the Illinois Senate.

The bills, introduced by Palatine's Jackson L. Boughner, are aimed at enforcing uniform collection of the controversial personal property tax.

Uniform collection, Boughner contends, would increase tax income, a portion of which helps support Illinois school districts.

Boughner is senator from the Third Senatorial district, which includes Palatine, Hanover, Schaumburg and Barrington townships.

BOUGHNER'S first pending bill would permit cities and villages to require proof that personal property taxes have been paid before issuing residents motor vehicle stickers.

The second proposed bill would eliminate personal property tax returns and let township assessors do on-the-spot assessments. This would eliminate fraudulent returns which "create a great deal of disrespect for the law," Boughner said.

Dilks said this week he appreciates Boughner's attempts to increase school revenue. "But these bills aren't the answer," he said.

DILKS POINTED out that Boughner's first bill would apply only to those persons living within incorporated limits. Yet almost half of Palatine's assessed personal property is located in unincorporated areas not requiring motor vehicle stickers.

Dilks said personal property in Palatine township in 1956 was assessed at $3,166,000. Of this, $1,346,000 is located in unincorporated area, he said.

Also, not everyone has a car, he said.

DILKS' main criticism of Boughner's second proposed bill is that to carry out on-the-spot assessment would require hiring an army of tax personnel. "It would be an utter impossibility for the assessor to do it alone," Dilks said.

The assessor said he is now given 6 weeks each year to make assessments on new construction during the year. "Just attempting to keep up with new building, I can barely manage," he said.

THE COST OF HIRING a battalion of workers to canvass entire townships and note down personal property assets would nullify the gain in increased revenue, he contended.

Boughner has introduced a third bill designed to produce additional millions in school funds. The bill would extend the corporation franchise tax to include the earned surplus of a corporation. A tax of 1/20 of one per cent would yield $9 million.

French College Boys Want Girl Visitors in Rooms

by BILL DILLINGHAM

PARIS—Should girls be permitted to visit college boys in their rooms?

Many French students (male) believe that they should, and to prove the point they have already stoned the residences of the campus authorities.

New officials have moved into controlling posts at Paris' Cite Universitaire, the huge residential area where thousands of students live. For too long, authorities say, students have been "carrying on" with their girl friends in their rooms.

THE STUDENTS, however, disagree with the claim. Only during the last 25 years, they explain, has the practice been "legal." And that is not long enough.

Police were called in during the last demonstration. About four-hundred male students (with their girl friends lending moral support—or was it immoral support?) threw firecrackers at the residence of the director of the Maison des Provinces de France. Then they went to work on the university rector in the same way. When the police arrived, reinforcements of bottles and eggs were brought into the battle.

"They are trying to change the French way of life," complained a bearded American.

The Cite Universitaire is a huge collection of houses in the area of Paris' Porte d'Orleans. Most of the buildings bear the names of countries. There is a Swiss house, an American one, a Canadian one, and so forth.

IN THE PAST, the "master" in control of each house was usually a person from the country the building was named after. Thus, the moral customs of that particular nation were respected. In the American house the girl students are separated and visitors of the opposite sex are not allowed. This also goes in the houses of England, Canada and some others. The Scandinavian and French Provinces houses were "wide open." But such contrasts have disturbed many of the directors. The purge is under way.

French students have boycotted the huge restaurant in the Maison Internationale as another means of protest. This restaurant served residents 40-cent meals (says the director) for 20 cents. The students claim that they serve 10-cent meals for 20 cents.

IN ANY CASE, food seems less important than romance, so the sacrifice is being made.

These events demonstrate the old saying that a Frenchman fights best, not for politics, bread or religion, but for "l'amour."

Local Phones May Dial Bensenville, Wood Dale

Individual line and 2-party telephone numbers can now dial telephone numbers can now dial direct to telephones in Bensenville and Wood Dale.

Direct dialing is possible as the result of the conversion of telephones there to dial operation on May 5, according to Robert E. Kozeliski, telephone manager here. This means it will no longer be necessary to dial a code number to place calls to these points, he said.

WITH THE change-over to dial, new numbers beginning with the exchange name "POrter 6" were introduced in Bensenville and Wood Dale.

"If you're calling someone in these communities and you don't know the new number, please call the information operator before you dial," Kozeliski suggested.

The new direct dialing service is also in effect for private switchboard telephone users. Four and 8-party customers will continue to place calls to these points with the operator, he said.

Hot Weather Brings Kids Into Streets

Warm weather always brings children outdoors to participate in the games and activities of the season.

"This places an added responsibility on both the children and the motorist," declared Charles M. Hayes, president of the Chicago Motor club.

"Children are inclined to be impulsive and carefree," warned Hayes, "and it is the motorist's responsibility to watch closely when near a school or play yard anywhere children are congregated."

UNFORTUNATELY, all activities of children aren't confined to playgrounds, the motor club president points out.

Spring baseball "training" for many youngsters starts with the coming of warmer weather. Many times their baseball "field" is a busy street.

Spring also brings out the bicycles, tricycles, roller skates and other toy vehicles.

"Parents should warn their children of traffic dangers," Hayes said. He also advised bicycle riders to observe the same traffic rules as motorists. (B

Lions Club Gives Away Cadillac Car

Two thousand people will be eagerly awaiting June 4 when the new owner of a Cadillac coupe will be announced by Arlington Heights Lions club at its Ladies Night party.

Supervising arrangements for the party is a special committee headed by club president Fred Blohm, who has made some "carefully guarded" remarks about a "few surprises."

Plans include erection of a memorial to the memory of men who have contributed to the development and welfare of Arlington Heights. Complete plans will be announced next week.

Village Historians Glean Arlington's Fact Lore

A musty collection of records gleaned from attic and basement is yielding a supply of fact and lore about the village's past for members of the Arlington Heights Historical society.

The newly-formed group, with 4 meetings behind it,is solidly established and has applied for incorporation as a non-profit organization, according to secretary Mrs. Milton F. Daniels.

A recent election of officers saw the following slate put into office: A. F. Volz, president; Theodore Militzer, vice president; Mrs. Daniels, secretary; Mrs. Marjorie Allen, corresponding secretary, Paul Patrick, custodian, and Virgil Horath, treasurer.

VARIOUS members are writing histories of village and township government and the community's schools, churches and other institutions. A number of the historians played important roles in the life of the groups about which they are writing.

Militzer, for example, served on the boards of Arlington high school and grade school for many years during and after World War I.

The society is seeking historical artifacts and pictures for its collection and has offered to copy and return photograph. Also needed are the services of a typist.

The group will next meet May 24 in the Daniels home at 805 N. Dunton. (AF

Newcomers Club To Elect Officers At May 16 Meeting

The May 16 business meeting of Arlington Heights Newcomers club will be devoted to the election of officers to serve the club for the next 6 months.

The slate of nominees as presented by the nominating commitee is: Mrs. Glenn Luster and Mrs. Henry Moore, president; Mrs. Robert Cummings and Mrs. G. W. Lebsock, vice president; Mrs. Edward Kolk and Mrs. John Sinclair, recording secretary; Mrs. Robert Fritz and Mrs. Roy Larson, corresponding secsecretary; Mrs. Lawrence Dieter and Mrs. Robert Halfhill, treasurer. Nominations will also be invited from the floor.

Following the election, the evening will be spent playing cards with tables of bridge, pinochle and canasta. Hostesses Lillian Luster and Eva Becker will be in charge of refreshments.

All newcomers to Arlington Heights with residence of one year or less are invited to attend this meeting. Those wishing more information may call the membership chairman, Mrs. Bert Hogan, CLearbrook 3-6727. (A

Launch Big Season At O'Hare Stadium

What promises to be a great season of auto races is now underway at O'Hare Stadium, the highly banked, quarter-mile asphalt track that opened for the first time last June. Another thrilling program of new and late model stock car races is set for this Sunday, May 12. O'Hare is at Mannheim and Irving Park rds.

Gates will open at 12 noon with Art Kelly, well known starter, throwing the green flag for the first competitive event at 2:30 p.m. O'Hare, just as last year, is the only speedway in Chicagoland presenting the new and late model stocks on a weekly basis.

These passenger car daredevils will launch night racing at OHare Saturday, May 18, and run every Saturday and Sunday under the lights thereafter. Wednesday night racing at the track will mark the 1957 debut of the mighty midgets on June 5, announces General Manager Frank Lobaza. (Sp

Local Dogs Win Honors in NW Obedience Club Show

There was a total of 106 entries for the 5 obedience classes Sunday when Northwest Obedience club, Inc., of suburban Chicago sponsored its second sanctioned match in Palatine Community park. Entries were from the majority of Chicago suburbs and northwest communities and, also, one entry from Madison, Wis.

Again the weather man cooperated to make ideal show conditions. An addition this year was serving refreshments during the show hours.

MEMBERS of the equipment committee were on the job at 6 a.m. and registrations and judging were in operation by 9 a.m. The facilities made it possible for judging to proceed smoothly and the last trophy was presented before 4 p.m.

The special rosette ribbon and trophy for the highest scoring entry in the show was won by a collie owned by Virginia J. Hoel of Skokie with a score of 198 out of a possible 200. The dog was entered in the Novice B class.

Novice A- 1st,, golden retriever owned by Richard Utz, Elmhurst; 2nd, german shepherd, "Derry," owned by Patricia Biringer, Palatine; 3rd, german short haired pointer owned by Chester and Edris Skol of Chicago; 4th, collie owned by Mary V. Perrone of Skokie.

At the close of the match, the judges, their wives and husbands and visiting stewards were guests of the officers and members of Northwest for dinner at Brandt's.

LASEKE DISPOSAL bowlers found things to their liking this year in both the Palatine Sportsman's league and the Northwest Lutheran tournament. They copped top honors in the league for the second year in a row, and vaulted into first place early in the tourney, staving off challengers galore as the tourney continued at Hi-Way Recreation.

Members of the league team included Ray Guenther with a 170 average, Hubert Meier 171 ,sponsor H. W. Laseke holding last year's trophy, Don Zollner 157, Ralph Langhorst 162 and Harvey Helms 174. Another member of the team now in service was Ronnie Probst 172. Zollner was replaced by Harvey Engelking for the Lutheran tournament.

Modern Etiquette

by ROBERTA LEE

Q. I see more and more women shaking hands with each other when they meet. Is this really proper?

A. There is never anything improper about a sincere handshake. It is optional with a woman whether or not she shakes hands, but certainly she shows more pleasure over a meeting if she does.

Q. I was widowed several months ago, and a friend has told me I am supposed either to discard my wedding ring or wear it on my right hand. What is correct?

A. You certainly are not compelled to do either of these! You may continue to wear your wedding ring for as long as you wish.

Q. What is the proper order of recession at the end of a wedding ceremony in the church?

A. Just the reverse of the entrance of the wedding party. The bride and bridegroom should lead the way up the aisle, followed by the bridesmaids and ushers.

TV Singer, Recording Star Among Benefit Celebrities

Dick Noel, popular recording star and featured singer on the Don McNeill Breakfast club, has been added to the list of celebrities appearing at the "Tops In Pops" male fashion show May 17.

"Tops In Pops" is being sponsored by the Women's Auxiliary of the Northwest Community Hospital Center, in conjunctioon with the Illinois Men's Apparel Club of Chicago. All proceeds will go towards the Auxiliary's the operating room of the pledge of $25,000 to equip new hospital.

NOEL JOINS Maggie Daly, famed fashion commentator, and Bob Murphy, star of the Bob and Kay television show.

The style show will be divided into 7 scenes, portraying the life of the male animal, human species, beginning with a commuter scene — wife in bobbie pins et al.

The scenes will then shift to the loafing week end, 19th hole, fall prevue scene, backyard barbeque, informal cocktail, and formal evening.

THROUGHOUT the 2 hours, some 59 ensembles will be modeled. Musical background will be provided by a "Tops In Pops" orchestra led by Bob Ragland, Mt. Prospect.

Feature of the planning of the show has been a feud between ticket selling team captains in Wheling and Elk Grove townships.

Teams selling the most tickets during a week are given the opportunity of displaying the "Tops In Pops" thermometer poster. Elk Grove teams are headed by Helen Boddy Alice Johnson, Jean Puff, Gene Knoepfle, Pat Nau, Corky Pfeiffer, Vi Jahnke, Dorothy Cassie, Mabel Brown, Georgine Swanson, Ruth Henneberg, Stella Jones, and Inez McDowell.

Ticket selling team captains in Wheeling township include Mrs. John Sicks, Wheeling; Mrs. William Andrew, Prospect Heights; Mrs. Clarence Hendrickson, Arlington Heights; and Mrs. Harvey Hoffmann, Mt. Prospect.

Prize Vacation 'Dream Come True' for Family

A dream became a reality for the K. L. Ball family of Rolling Meadows, when they learned that they were the lucky winners for the 14-day Happiness Tour through the Southwest which was the grand prize of the Rolling Meadows shopping center grand opening celebration.

When Mr. and Mrs. Ball purchased their home in Rolling Meadows 6 months ago they were torn between making their first trip to California and becoming home owners. They decided on the latter and now Rolling Meadows has fullfilled their other desire.

THIS IS THE first time either Mr. or Mrs. Ball has ever won anything. Both of them commented on the fact they were completely surprised at their good fortune and could not have planned a more wonderful vacation for themselves.

Mrs. Ball said "We looked for a home for 5 years and found that Rolling Meadows had all the qualities we were looking for in a young, up and coming community."

Ball is employed by the Westmont Auto Parts and Mrs. Ball works for the Commercial National Bank in Chicago.

The Balls are originally from Glenview and now reside at 3903 Redwing ct., Rolling Meadows.

MINNIE RODRIGUEZ of Rt. 1 Box 330, Arlington Heights and Fran Oldenburg, 3009 Hawk lane, Rolling Meadows received Motorola high fidelity sets.

The 4 portable television sets were won by Janice Destefano, 4451 W. Ainslie, Chicago; Irene Potempa, 2501 South st., Rolling Meadows; T. Krenz, 534 E. Lincoln, Palatine; and V. Clark, 645 S. Chestnut, Arlington.

A complete list of winners will be posted at Suburban Drugs. They are also being notified by mail. (B7

Top Stars of the Music World

Brought to Arlington Heights through Your Membership in the Community
Concert Association

Memberships available one week only — May 13 through 18

You can see and hear, appearing in person in Arlington Heights the greatest stars of the world of music and entertainment.

For nine seasons now, your Community Concert Association has brought you the world's leading singers, dancers, orchestras, pianists and other artists.

In the coming season you will have at least four concerts and your membership — costing only $7.50 for adults and $3.50 for students — is all you pay to attend all of them.

Yes, this is a bargain for the finest of entertainment — less than you usually would pay for a single concert downtown. More than that — your membership helps bring the outstanding musical talent of the world to your community, in easy reach of your children, students and others who seldom would have this cultural and life-enriching experience.

If you are not a member be sure to take advantage of the membership campaign next week — the only time when new memberships are available. At the same time regular members can renew their memberships. You will not want to miss the outstanding program which your Artists Selection Committee is planning for the tenth season.

Your community concerts are held in the Arlington Heights high school. The complete program and the artists to appear next season will be announced one week after the membership campaign. Remember, season's memberships only are available. Admissions to single concerts cannot be sold.

The Community Concert Association was organized by a group of local citizens for the single purpose of bringing this fine entertainment to the community. There is no profit.

Over 95 per cent of all dues are spent for talent, for the great artists you have read about and heard about and now will see — in person.

Be sure to get your membership — next week.

Coming! For Our Tenth Season
A Major Symphony Orchestra

Already engaged for next season — an 85 piece Symphony Orchestra!

This will be one of the four or more attractions for the fall and winter season.

For an idea of the others, here are some of the stars of our past concerts — Gladys Swarthout, Mata and Hari, Rochester Symphony, Piano Quartette, Vronsky and Babin, Igor Gorin, Gershwin Festival, DePaur Infantry Chorus, and many others.

All told $47,000 has been spent for talent only — bringing the greatest artists of the concert world here to Arlington Heights to entertain you — in person.

Why don't you completely air condition your home this summer, Lorenzo?

We will . . . if we find a company that we're sure of . . . and if the price is right.

You should call Enterprise Heat and Air Conditioning Company! They handle and install only the top lines, like Shana and Carrier . . . and they guarantee the entire job . . . both commercial and residential installations.

Good idea, Philmour. Have they been in business long?

Over 30 years! And reasonable . . . imagine, a 2 ton packaged air cooled unit for only $495. Say, Lorenzo, you probably need a 3 ton unit . . . that would be $645 plus installation.

Only $495 for a 2 ton unit? How much down?

That's the best news of all. No money down, and payments arranged for your budget. Take it from me, Lorenzo, call them today for your free survey . . .

What's the number for that free survey, Philmour?

Northwest Symphony Stars Perry Crafton in Concert

The Northwest Symphony Orchestra will conclude its 1956-57 season with a concert Sunday afternoon, May 12, at Maine Township high school auditorium.

This concert will have special appeal to local music followers. Perry Grafton, director of the symphony, will be featured as violin soloist and Alexander Harley, chairman of the music department at Maine, will be guest conductor.

CRAFTON, a resident of Edison Park, was born in Plattsburg, Mo., where he received his early training in violin. He received a Bachelor of Music degree from the American Conservatory of Music, Chicago, in 1942 after attending the University of Chicago in 1939-40.

While in the Army 1943-46, in addition to active service in the Signal Corps, he appeared as violin soloist with symphony orchestras in Sacramento, Calif., and Calcutta, India, and on the Armed Forces radio in Oran, North Africa. He served as concert master of the Chicago Symphony Orchestra for 2 years under Dr. Frederick Stock.

After leaving Chicago, he became a member of the Indianapolis Symphony from 1946 to 1948. He returned to Chicago to become a member of the symphony in 1948, the position he currently holds.

Since his return to civilian life, he has also appeared as guest soloist with the Kenosha and Gary Symphonies as well as with the Chicago Symphony Orchestra. In 1952, he was instrumental in the forming of the Northwest Symphony Orchestra, acting as its musical director and conductor since its founding.

THE PROGRAM will include the Overture to "Midsummer Nights Dream," Opus 21 by Felix Mendelssohn-Bartholdy, Sumphony No. 5 in B Flat Major by Franz Schubert, Tone Poem "Don Juan," Opus 20 by Richard Strauss, in addition to the Symphonic Espagnole for Violin and Orchestra, Opus 21 by Edouard Lalo.

Concert time is 3:30 p.m. Tickets on sale at door; Adults $1.50, Students 75 cents. (B7

Mary Jo Utt Is Oratory Winner

Mary Jo Utt, Arlington high school junior, won first place in the sectional meet of the annual Chicago American original oration contest held Monday, May 6, at radio station WBEZ.

The subject of the 6 minute speech was William B. Ogden, first mayor of Chicago.

With this victory she is eligible to continue in the competition for a final first place award of a $100 savings bond and a trip to Springfield to meet Governor Stratton. All entrants received a valuable book of quotations.

ONE BOY and one girl were eligible to enter from each of the Chicago area high schools. A total of 144 students started in the competition and, through sectional meets, are being narrowed down for the final contest.

John Mroz, senior, represented Arlington in the boy's division. Both students are coached by Floyd Dougherty. (ACM

The Mailman's Corner

Unconquerable Spirit of Man

by LELAND ELLIS TRUXELL

I am often reminded of man's unconquerable spirit when I consider the wonderful plans we have for the future. Plans of flying to the moon within the next 5 years. Flans of heating our home and running our cars by nuclear fission. And the hopes, the dreams we have of some day fusing all peoples and races into a human brotherhood that will precede the end of the world wars.

It makes me marvel at man's possibilities. It seems that everything he has knowledge of can be directed to his use, advancement and good. And I am led to believe that God reveals new knowledge to man as he grows in ability. Our advance into the realms of what was once thought impossible has been led by God, who has clarified for man the hitherto unsolved mysteries of the world as he has reached a stage where he is capable of handling them.

BUT BRINGING it down to a level closer to and more understandable to us all, I marvel at the individual who leads his community to new and better living; who accepts the leadership most of us are afraid of or lack the initiative to grasp.

You and I have both known people with great, good spirit. People who are eager to take the burden on their shoulders for civic and spiritual improvement in our community. People who go forth to work each day with bright eyes and eager steps. People who walk with confidence, poise, and self assurance.

BECAUSE THEY have spirit, they are not working for dollars and cents alone, but for the love of achievement, and with it, a feeling of accomplishment and pride. They, too, are important to the welfare and happiness of mankind, just as the scientist, and great spiritual and industrial leaders who conquer space and time, and natural resources.

Each of us, by changing from habits of fear, inferiority, or civic and spiritual lethargy, can take our place, and do our bit for the growth and welfare of our community and our nation. We, too, can become a part of America's unconquerable spirit.

Will Palatine Annex 2000-Home Project?

If Palatine agrees to annex a proposed 755-acre subdivision, the village:

—will nearly double its population;

—receive approximately $180,000 more in sales tax funds;

—acquire 2 new school sites;

—receive $200 per home from 2,000 homes for a school fund;

—have 115 acres set aside for an industrial park, 60 acres for a shopping center; and

—acquire 5 new parks.

The proposed home project — Winston Park — is to be developed by Winston Park-Northwest corp. It is bounded by Rohlwing rd. on the west and Northwest hwy. on the south. Now unincorporated, the annexed territory would press Palatine village boundaries flush with Arlington Heights limits.

David Muss, president of the corporation, presented his appeal for annexation to the Palatine village board Monday night.

Muss, in presenting the plat to the village, showed that it had been worked out with the aid of Carl Gardner, city planner, and conforms with F. H. A. subdivision standards.

A LETTER from Palatine plan commission stated that there was some variance from the subdivision ordinance in the proposed width of the streets. Palatine requires collector streets 70 feet wide with minor streets 60 feet wide. The plat shows 66 feet and 50 feet. Muss answered this objection stating that 30 foot setbacks of the houses allows for as much paved area as would be in the wider streets.

Lots will average 80x105 feet. Forty-eight versions of a ranch style home will be built. This last was presented in answer to a plea by the plan commission to avoid the uniformity and monotony usually present in a mass development.

HOMES WILL sell for prices from $19,690 to $25,990. All will be varying combinations of brick and frame.

For the $19,690, the buyer will get 3-bedrooms, dining room, living room, kitchen, bathroom, utility room.

For $21,990 there wil be 3-bedrooms, 2-baths, kitchen, living room, dining room and utility.

The $23,990 house adds another bedroom or den, a basement and a garage.

The $24,490 house has 3-bedrooms, full recreation room, 2-and-a-half baths, garage, utility room.

The last on the price list, $25,990, is 3-bedrooms, 2-and-a-half baths, basement, recreation room, and garage.

ACCORDING TO Muss, there are 5 basic floor plans which make into 10 by turning them around and 48 different combinations. All electrical and phone services will be underground. Winston will seed each homesite for grass and plant a minimum number of bushes and trees.

Winston has installed a complete water works with a well and a pumping station. A 250,000 gallon storage tank is now being erected. It is expected that the plant will pump approximately 175 gallons a minute. They will install a complete sanitary sewer system in accordance with the village requirements and those of the Metropolitan Sanitary district.

In a letter to the board, Winston corp. asks that the customary annexation fee of the village be waived in exchange for the delivery of title to the village of the complete water works and the land on which it is located.

They agree to pay building permit fees, electrical inspection fee. Since they will install all sewer connections, plumbing connections and water taps and will furnish all water meters, they ask that a nominal inspection fee of $5 be the charge for these items.

TWO PLATS OF ground, 12 acres and 8 acres, are set aside for the grade schools. They also plan to acquire a parcel of 15 to 20 acres in close proximity to Winston Park. This will be held for about 2 years for high school district 211 in case they need it.

Unit 1 of the subdivision is ready to go ahead. Muss and Louis Ancel, attorney for the corporation, asked that the zoning board of appeals hold a preannexation hearing to determine the status of the 115-acre tract set aside for light industry and the 60 acres for the shopping center.

Without village approval of these 2 zoning variations, Winston Park will not annex to the village. (PF

Modern Ettiquette

Q. When a man is driving his car with his wife and another w oman seated in the front seat with him, does his wife sit next to him or does the woman friend?

A. There is no set rule regarding this. They sit as they happen to get in.

Q. Is it considered bad manners for one to sip coffee or tea while chewing on food that is already in the mouth?

A. Yes; only one item of food or drink should be in the mouth at any one time.

I.C.P.T. Convention Notes:

Local representatives returned last week from attendance at the 55th annual convention of the Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers held April 25 through 27, at the Conrad Hilton hotel in Chicago.

Local delegates came home with the feeling that they represented not only the largest PTA unit in the state, but also one of the best organized.

The 4,000 delegates, representing 625,000 parents and teachers in the state, voted unanimously to request restoration of the 246 millions cut from the major school budget recommended by the Illinois School Problems commission. This is the amount necessary to raise the budget to the point where the average expenditure per pupil in the poorer school districts can be raised to the $270 state-wide average.

In addition, the congress voted to work to repeal the Broyles law requiring teachers to sign loyalty pledges. An increase of $3 million in the $15 million budget for education of the exceptional child was also recommended.

The program included workshop sessions in which delegates could discuss common organizational problems with members of other units. An unusual feature of the convention was 5 simultaneous banquets held the final evening, Saturday, instead of just one large one, providing delegates with a choice of 5 programs in PTA fields.

Featured speakers were Mrs. Milton L. Wiener of Wilmette, president of the ICPT and Mrs. John Hayes, a past national president. Mrs. Hayes, grandmother from Twin Falls, Idaho told the convention of the need for "bait" to get parents to become active in PTA work. "The PTA has been the greatest parent education force in the world," she said, "But not one of our children is as well off as he would be if every child had a good home."

E.C.S.G. Meeting Notes:

The exceptional child study group rang down the curtain on a successful year of work with a panel discussion on the "Gifted Child." Richard Hetke, principal of Ridge school acted as moderator of the panel composed of Mrs. Agnes Skadberg, reading consultant, Ralph Clabaugh, superintendent, Miss Phyllis Peterson, Phillip Rendone and William Fritsche, teachers in local schools. A group of teachers including the above mentioned panel have been working on a committee to study the problems of educating the gifted children. The information brought out in the panel discussion was evidence of a great deal of research.

Identification and treatment of the gifted child drew the attention of the panel and parent alike, while Mr. Clabaugh discussed the philosophical questions involved. Three methods of teaching the gifted child already practiced in various sections of the country are acceleration, segregation and enrichment. Acceleration, or double-promotion, was discarded as a solution because of the social adjustments involved, while the economics of segregation of gifted children in an expanding school system made that solution difficult. Enrichment of the curriculum for those children who learn faster than their fellow classmates was indicated as the most practical immediate solution. Such "education in depth" poses an added challenge to both parent and teacher alie and calls for the fullest cooperation between the 2, it was emphasized.

Discussion following the panel presentation brought out the surprising fact that approximately 10 per cent of the K-5 pupils have IQ's of 130 or more and may be considered gifted in at least some respects. This statistic emphasizes the importance of this subject for parents and teachers in Arlington Heights.

Mrs. Edwin Larson, PTA chairman of the exceptional child study group presided at the meeting and announced there will be another series of meetings of the group next year and extends an invitation to all.

Junior High Meeting Report:

Mrs. Kenneth Hood, Junior high school chairman, welcomed parents and teachers to the final meeting for this school for the year. After several announcements by Mrs. Hood, Donald Grote, principal, presented the legislative announcements, stating that the amount of increase needed by the schools to continue the present program will not be sufficient unless people write their legislators to vote an increase in the amount last proposed by the Governor of our state.

Melvin Kasen, special teacher of vocal and orchestral music, presented a group of youngsters in a stringed instrument ensemble. The 2 cellists, in their first year of study, were recruited from the fifth grade. The progress made by these students in such a brief time is a tribute to their instructor and the program was much enjoyed by the audience.

Mrs. David Gow, program representative, presented the highlight of the evening, a play, "What's the Matter with Janie?" a production worthy of a packed house. This entertaining and enlightening play, written by Kay Hawley and presented by the Village Theatre, unfolds the story of a family distressed over the problem of their withdrawn Janie, eighth grader who has trouble adjusting after a move to a new house and school, and is overshadowed by a younger brother, Jeff, who has no trouble at all in being part of all going on at home or at school.

After the first scene, in which this problem is presented, Mrs. Ruth Sangster, school guidance counselor, explained that the situation be resolved in several ways and asked for solutions from the audience. The comments and suggestions were interesting from both teacher and parent standpoint.

The second scene, presented after the discussion, solves the problem for this particular Janie by interesting her in a school dance of the "mixer type" where Janie's talent as a pianist is also "discovered" and her woes seem well on their way to a happy solution.

Her parents' satisfaction takes a realistically wry turn when Jeff, whose nose is more than a little out of joint over Janie's social success, starts to present them with new behavior problems. With a sigh, they prepare to renew battle with the never-ending difficulties of parenthood.

This excellent play had an equally excellent cast: father, Tom Grisell; mother, Kay Hawley; Jeff, Ricky Hawley; Janie, Connie Beckway, bridge players, Virginia Hula, Barbara Housekeeper, Harriet Smith, and Kay Hawley. Mrs. Ruth Sangster was adviser, the play was written by Kay Hawley and directed by Alice Scheske.

Reminder!!

Mark your PTA calendar on May 21 — the general meeting for all schools — the last meeting of the year. There has been a change in the program since the calendar was printed so please make the correction now and plan to attend! Speaker will be Professor George Z. Bereday, from Teacher's College at Columbia university. His subject is "Universal Education vs. Eduction for the Elite."

Dr. Bereday, a native of Poland, served in that country's cavalry (a hilarious experience, the way he tells it) and in the British paratroops during the war. A recent citizen of our country, he brings a fresh perspective to what being an American means.

Friends and neighbors are invited to hear this outstanding and entertaining speaker. The meeting will be in the Junior high gymnasium at 8:15 p.m. (A

Northwest Heighters

Dorothy Bakowski, daughter of the Edwin Bakowskis, was among those who made their first holy communion in St. James church Saturday morning. After the service, they entertained several relatives at home with a dinner to celebrate the occasion.

Sunday the John J. Clarks entehtainer his sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Hyre from DeKalb.

Last Thursday night Evelyn Battaglia entertained her bridge club. Several of the Kaspar ave. neighbors were there for a dessert bridge.

Hosts to Former Residents

The Howard Heisers played hosts to the Orville Zimmermans over the weekend. Many Arlington Heighters will remember the Zimmermans, who formerly lived here before they moved to Hayward, Wis., where they have a lodge, Zim's Timberlake lodge. The Zimmermans visited many former neighbors here before leaving for Hayward. They had been living in southern Illinois until recently when they left for Hayward.

Tte Adolph Danes recently spent an evening with the Paul Rusts of Deerfield. For dinner they went to the Golden Ox and afterward they saw "Around the World in 80 Days."

Bon Voyage Dinner

Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Erik Dedring and children went to Chicago for dinner in the home of his mother, Mrs. H. Dedring. It was a special occasion, since it was the last time the family would be together until after Mrs. Dedring returns from a trip to Sweden. She has several relatives there and plans to be gone from 6 months to a year, which means she will celebrate her 70th birthday there in June.

Jerry Donahue, 7-year-old son of the John Donahues, made his first holy communion in St. James church Saturday morning. After the service his Grandmother and Grandfather Bejrowski from Chicago were guests for a turkey dinner with all the trimmings. Several aunts, uncles and cousins were there, too, to help celebrate the occasion.

Cynthia Intravartolo, daughter of the Joe Intravartolos, also made her first communion in St. James church Saturday.

Doris Nastal is back home recuperating from an operation. It is hoped that she will be fully recovered in a short time.

Attend Convention

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Saidikowski have returned from a Natural Gas convention that took them to New Orleans. They were gone 5 days, driving down with friends and flying back, which was a unique and thrilling experience for them.

Mrs. Saidikowski attended a luncheon for the ladies of the convention, some of whom were on television. They visited many places of historical interest, some being the French Quarter, the thedral and Jackson Square. They especially enjoyed the food at Arnoud's and the Court of 2 Sisters, with its devil's wishing well and serenaders. They also took a trip outside New Orleans to Pasquals, which is famous for its shrimp. All in all, they both pronounced the trip a complete success in every way.

There was a big day at the Herman Koeneman's Saturday. That was the day Kenny made his first communion in St. James church. Besides his immediate family, his grandmother and Uncle Tom were in church to watch him make his communion. Afterward there was a dinner at the Koeneman's for the family, including Kenny's aunt and uncle from Cicero, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Marowski, Mr. and Mrs. Hank West and their 2 children from Cicero, Mr. and Mrs. Felix West and Bob and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Horn and Linda.

Column To Be Renamed

In order to identify more clearly the area that this column covers, from now on it will be entitled "Ridge Park-Sherwood" instead of Northwest Heighters, which some people have felt was too broad for this area. For clarification purposes the column covers the area from Ridge to Wilke st. and from Sherwood to the highway. This change will be made next week. (A

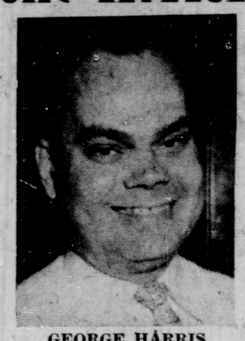
the HARRIS huddle



GEORGE HARRIS

How about it everyone, are you prepared for the hot days that are just ahead? It looks as though ole' man summer is finally upon us and now you'll be spending a lot of time out of doors working in the garden, keeping the lawn beautiful or just sitting on your big fat patio.

Don't forget to take care of yourself during the first few days you spend out in the open. Have plenty of sun-tan oil, get the shampoo that will keep your hair looking beautiful and get some of that everlovin' liniment for those aches and pains that you will get from doing that extra curricular work. Spending a lot of time out in the open is wonderful, but it is also wonderful to feel good; so do as the man says, "take care of yourself." All of you gals can have a lovely tan if you'll only use a good sun-tan lotion and not over-expose yourself the first few times out.

Man, we are lonely, but loaded with all kinds of preparations for the summer weather — not only do we have the merchandise, but you'll find the prices are right and the service is of the very best. Yours for that healthy, outdoors look.

LINDA TOOK second place with her after-dinner speech "Forensics Reunion" and third with "Bless You Dears," an original monologue. Janet won a third place medal with a cutting from Arthur Miller's "Death of a Salesman" in serious play reading. John captured second place in the extemporaneous verse reading contest when he drew and read William Rose Benet's "Night," "Brazen Tongue," and "Eternal Masculine."

This was the first time AHS received the high third place award in the state contest, and John is the first Arlington student to get so close to winning a first place in any of the events. (ACM

Vets Make Buddy Poppies For VFW Sale May 17, 18

In veterans hospitals throughout the country, disabled service men are busy fashioning the VFW Buddy Poppies which will go on sale May 17 and 18, Commander William Luetchwager of Post No. 981 Arlington Heights Veterans of Foreign Wars announced this week.

These poppies are replicas of the little crimson flower that grows over the graves of war heroes in "Flanders Fields."

The VFW Buddy Poppy is symbolic of the reverence in which we hold those men who gave their lives that this nation might live. Moreover, it is a living reminder that those who wear it have honored those dead, not in concrete and stone, but by helping the living who fought beside them.

DISABLED VETERANS have asked to make these Buddy Poppies. They receive pay for it, and at the same time advance their own rehabilitation by performing work of a constructive nature. Knowing that the fruits of their efforts will make it possible for their comrades to receive much needed assistance, they are at the same time reconditioning themselves for their eventual return to civilian life.

Everybody who works on this campaign is making a patriotic contribution to the cause of veteran welfare. None of the money that the public contributes will be spent for campaign administrative purposes.

Virginia Terrace News

School News

Parents of future kindergarten students received tickets in the mail for the Sydney J. Harris talk, "Should We Enjoy Our Children More?" Eileen Brown, fund-raising chairman, urges everyone to invite their neighbors and friends to attend. Mr. Harris will present his program May 16 at 8:30 in the Wilson school multi-purpose room.

As a climax to the PTA programs of Wilson school, Mrs. R. B. Yadon, District Legislation chairman of district 21, will present, "What Do You Mean To PTA and What Does PTA Mean To You?" Also included on the program will be Mrs. Arthur Walden of Evanston, former State Safety chairman for the Illinois Congress of PTA. She will endeavor to assist in local safety problems. The meeting will be held Tuesday, May 14, at 8 p.m. at which time new PTA officers will be installed. They are: Pat Coniglio, president; Barbara Casteel, vice president; Kathy Gunnison, secretary; Leo Kneer, treasurer. Winners of the round robin of bridge, pinochle and canasta will be announced also.

Association Meeting

Everyone is asked to set aside planting and painting May 27 in order to attend the general membership meeting of the Virginia Terrace Improvement association. At this meeting, which will be held at 8 p.m. at Wilson school, the new director and assistant director of each district will be elected.

Kelly Forsberg, 1110 N. Yale, was elected president of the Wilson school board for a term of one year.

New residents are Clyde and Hazel Burnquist, 1264 N. Race, who moved from Chicago 2 weeks ago. The Burnquist children are Clyde, 15, who attends Arlington high school; Ronald, 14, Earl, 13, and Robert, 11, who attend Wilson school; and Mary Jo, 7 months. Mr. Burnquist owns and operates his own business in Chicago.

First Communion

Among the 180 children to receive first communion in St. James church May 4 were the following Terrace residents: Ruth Broderick, Patricia Courvoisier, David Gorman, Nancy Kale, Dennis Herrity, Pamela Koenig, Pamela Micek, James Ostler, Tom Sadowski, Mary Ann Wiley and Patricia Yore. After the service many of the parents held open house and served brunch to relatives and friends.

Dick and Pat Gorman served luncheon to 32 guests in honor of David's first communion and their daughter, Maureen's, seventh birthday. As an added treat, Pat will take Maureen to see the "Nutcracker Suite" ballet Saturday.

Mae and Al Courvoisier served brunch for their daughter's godparents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald T. Morrison of Chicago, while Michael and Adele Yore had an open house in the afternoon.

New Arrivals

A daughter was born to Lorraine and Rolf Jensen April 30 in Resurrection hospital. Carol Jean, who weighed 8 pounds 6½ ounces, arrived on Lorraine's birthday. Mrs. Louis Jensen, Rolf's mother, cared for Carol Jean's 3 brothers, Jeff, Ronnie and Warren, while Lorraine was in the hospital.

Jeanne and Arthur Sadowski are parents of a fifth child, Christine Marie, who was born May 1 in Swedish Covenant hospital. Weighing 7 pounds and 15 ounces, Christine has 2 brothers and 2 sisters.

David John III, who weighed 8 pounds and 7 ounces, is the new son of Dave and Sandy Yates. He was born May 6 in Resurrection hospital and has 2 older sisters, Leslie and Lisa.

Birthdays

Helping Joanne Whipple celebrate her fourth birthday at a party Saturday were the following children: Kathleen, Eileen, and Paul Gorman, Lslie Griffith, Gene and Joanne Dougherty, Diane and Janice Ukelja, Frank and Steve Sullivan and Joanne's sisters, Gail and Judy.

Peter Forsberg, Timmy Coniglio, Kenny Williams and John Arnold were guests of Kenneth Petrucci in honor of his 10th birthday. The boys had refreshments and then attended a movie.

Eastwood Events

First Holy Communion

Several Eastwood children received their first holy communion Saturday at the 9 a.m. mass in St. James church. They were Carol Cockrell, Joseph and Francine Schneller and Jo Rogers.

To celebrate this event for Carol, her parents, Betty and Matt Cockrell, 905 E. Euclid, entertained with a party Saturday for their relatives.

A buffet luncheon was held Sunday for friends and relatives at the Joseph Schneller's, 701 N. Beverly, in honor of the twins' first communion.

At the home of Jean and Jim Rogers, 501 N. Lincoln, 18 relatives gathered Saturday for a double celebration. In honor of Jo's first communion and to celebrate Nancy's 11th birthday.

Birthdays

Fifteen friends of Linda Manchee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Manchee, 641 N. Beverly, are invited to celebrate her sixth birthday at a party to be held today, Thursday.

Joanne Travis, daughter of Doris and Foster Travis, 1115 E. Euclid, who was 12 May 3, celebrated her birthday Saturday with a luncheon and bowling party for 5 of her friends. The girls present were Alice Brandau, Cheryl Smalley, Marlene Geiger, Suzanne Bauer and Margot Hauff.

Two birthdays have been held at the William Heitz home, 219 N. Beverly, within the past 2 weeks. April 27 Irene celebrated her 10th birthday with a supper for 11 of her friends. Last Thursday 12 boys helped Joseph celebrate his 11th birthday with a supper party.

Here and There

Sunday night 7 couples gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Mell, 207 N. Lincoln, for cocktails and supper to wish farewell to the Carl Nickelsens, who moved from Eastwood a few weeks ago. Besides the feted couple and the hosts, the following were present: Mr. and Mrs. Robert House, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Behm, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Hoym, Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Schultz and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Anderson.

Senator McCarthy Never Fully Understood Himself

by WILLIAM D. McMAHON

Washington, D. C.—The Capital still is stunned by the sudden death of Senator Joseph R. McCarthy, who was laid to rest this week. Yet, ironically, not even Senator McCarthy himself ever fully realized one important aspect of his role on the American scene.

There never was any love lost between this reporter and Senator McCarthy.

However, neither was this reporter always able to admire many of those, who in opposing the controversial Senator from Wisconsin, too often resorted to the same "McCarthyism" they claimed to oppose.

IF "McCARTHYISM" became a synonym for character assassination, hysteria, innuendo, guilt by association, biased and distorted reporting and a stubborn refusal to view events objectively, then the late Senator fell victim to the "ism" as much as his "victims."

Too often the Senator's many detractors resorted to, or became preoccupied with the same tactics they denounced.

Perhaps this is the real harm McCarthy was to have caused, by unloosing such vituperation upon the national scene. But those of us who watched day after day of the Army-McCarthy hearings in the Senate Caucus Room or on our TV screens, could hardly be impressed by either adversary, or the bickering, dissension and irrelevancies both sides sustained.

If those who declared themselves against McCarthy in 1954, did so on principle, where were they in 1950, when Senator Margaret Chase Smith (R-Mass) sought Senate and public backing for her "Declaration of Conscience against McCarthy?"

Where is the difference between the "browbeating" of witnesses by Congressional committees investigating Communism, which was supposed to have been condemned, and the "browbeating" of witnesses before other committees which is approved or ignored?

Why had there been such loud defense of the acknowledged right of witnesses in Communist inquiries to seek refuge under the Fifth Amendment, but virtually unanimous condemnation of Teamsters' President Dave Beck when he invoked the same Amendment 3 score times in one afternoon?

SENATOR McCARTHY'S controversiality raged around the definition of "McCarthysim." The word was defined by his supporters as patriotic anti-Communism, but by his detractors and opponents as demagoguery, witch-hunting and hysteria.

McCarthy contended to the last that he had achieved his principal objective by alerting the public to the menace of Communist subversion. Perhaps only J. Edgar Hoover, whose FBI had the full confidence of the White House, as well as McCarthy's, can resolve the conflict over what the McCarthy era really resolved.

The FBI admits the era alerted the public to subversion, but J. Edgar Hoover also admits the danger still exists. It is also likely that the Korean war and the brutal Soviet suppression of the Hungarian revolt did more than anything else in our times to expose Communism for what it is.

IT CANNOT be denied, ironically, that the McCarthy era also alerted the nation to another danger, which is the vulnerability of the civil liberties his foes claimed he threatened.

But with McCarthys decline and death, his foes never appeared so vocal in defending the Bill of Rights as they did while engaged with McCarthy. Except for the racial segregation issue, civil rights legislation is barely whispered about inside Congress and virtually ignored without.

The Teamsters inquiry should be producing vigorous debate over Right to Work legislation. We should be hearing mighty debate over charges of suppression of information by government bureaus, agencies and departments, where press freedom is involved. But the House inquiry headed by Representative John Moss (D-Calif) has sought press support almost in vain. The press itself is engaged in seeking the admission of newsmen to Red China, which hardly interests the public at all.

Nothing is heard about charges that the US Supreme Court is infringing, increasingly, upon states and personal rights ... about old age discrimination in employment ... about the test case against the UAW for political contributions, or about business demands to approve corporation political contributions ... about the growing use of executive decrees to bypass Congress, or the Bricker Amendment once debated, but now ignored.

PERHAPS SENATOR McCarthy's contribution to the era in which he thrived was that nothing went ignored. We became involved with irrelevencies and personalities. He was admired as a selfless patriot and hated as a demagogue.

But at least public opinion never slept in the heyday of the McCarthy era. Congressional committees were both strengthened and made fairer as flaws in their operations were exposed. Civil rights were displayed in bold relief on our TV screens. Thousands wrote letters to the editors, petitioned Congress and spoke out.

It was a challanging period for all concerned, during which public opinion became alive, alert, argumentative, constructive.

Maybe it takes the controversiality of a McCarthy to keep democracy on its toes. (B10 your guide to accurate measurements

Use a yardstick for accuracy. For apron length draperies, measure from top of window casing to bottom of window apron. For floor length draperies, measure from top of window casing to floor. For normal mounting, measure from one extreme edge of window casing to other outside edge for with. When extending onto wall, determine number of inches draperies are to extend on each side beyond window casing and add total to window width. Be sure to bring in both finished width and length desired. We'll do the rest.

Wieboldt's Set Grand Opening for May 16

The young people of one of Chicagoland's youngest but fastest growing communities will officiate at the grand opening at Wieboldt's new Harlem-Irving Plaza department store in suburban Norridge Thursday, May 16, James F. Tobin, president of Wieboldt Stores, Inc., announced today.

The store will open at 10 a.m., with the raising of eight flags on the staffs rising above the store facade.

RAISING the flags by push-button controls will be Barbara Anne Wieboldt, 16, great granddaughter of William A. Wieboldt, founder of the department store chain; Trude Dale Burns, 8, daughter of George C. Burns, the store manager, and 6 of the outstanding young people in the neighborhood served by the new store and now being selected by a panel of civic leaders. These 6 will be the outstanding Boy Scout and Girl Scout, the most outstanding grade school girl and boy, and the top boy and girl high school seniors.

"Thus the youngest member of the Wieboldt corporation family salutes the young members of the families we welcome as customers in this young but growing community," Tobin said.

"Although the accent will be on youth," Tobin added, "there will be other guest taking part in the brief grand opening celebration, including Joseph Sieb, president of the Village of Norridge; D. H. Moss, president, Harlem-Irving Plaza, Inc.; Myron Voss, president of the Harlem-Irving Plaza Chamber of Commerce, and Werner A. Wieboldt, eldest son of the founder, grandfather of Barbara Anne, and chairman of the board of Wieboldt Stores."

Tobin will officiate at the grand opening.

FLYING FROM the 8 poles rising high above the top of the 3-story building will be 3 United States flags, the flags of the State of Illinois and of the City of Chicago, 2 flags of the new shopping center, and 2 Wieboldt flags.

Sid Sherman and his band, who have provided the music at other Wieboldt celebrations, will play throughout the morning, and Adele Scott will preside at the console of her white organ Thursday and Friday afternoon and evenings, and Saturday morning and afternoon, Tobin announced.

Arlington Producer Wins TV-Radio Program Awards

Two University of Chicago radio programs, both produced by Norbert J. Hruby, 618 W. Campbell st., Arlington Heights, who is supervisor of television and radio at the University, were the only radio programs originating in Chicago to win awards in the American Exhibition of Educational Radio and Television Programs, sponsored by the Institute for Education by Radio and Television of the Ohio State university, it was announced this week in Columbus.

"The Sacred Note," a program of religious choral music featuring the great University of Chicago choir directed by Richard Vikstrom, received the First Award for religious programming for the second successive year, this time however on a national rather than regional basis. Thus the series won in competition with all top network programs in this category. "The Sacred Note" is heard locally each Saturday evening at 10:15 on WBBM. It is also broadcast by 30 other stations across the nation and in Canada.

THE CITATION accompanying the award reads as follows: "The Sacred Note" is a deeply moving religious musical program which cuts across denominational lines. The series is excellently produced and cannot fail to leave the listener with a feeling of reverent respect for the ideas presented."

The University's single program in the NBC radio network's series called 'The Voices of Christmas" heard last December was given honorable mention in the category of special one-time network broadcasts during 1956. This program which also featured the University choir was cited "for a scholarly yet entertaining performance of un-hackneyed choral music with appropriately dignified text, superbly produced."

Assisting Dr. Hruby in the production of both programs were Dean John B. Thompson of Rockefeller Memorial Chapel of the University, who served as theological consultant; Burton Moore, writer; Stanley Salter, sound engineer; and Dr. Heinrich Fleischer, internationally famous organist of the Chapel.

The Ohio State awards, now in their twenty-first year, are the oldest and among the most respected in the broadcasting business. (BB

Average Savings Here Tops Other Midwest Centers

Chicago-area depositors held an average of $1,195 in their commercial bank savings accounts in early 1957, according to the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago.

This compares with an average of $940 in the 44 other Midwest cities surveyed. Sharp differences in account size were noted within the Chicago area, however.

THE RESERVE BANK says that savings accounts in the Loop averaged more than twice the size of accounts in some suburbs.

Among communities outside the city, variations in average account size were almost as striking. Banks in the North Shore section recorded average balances 1½ times the size of those in DuPage and southern Cook counties.

Differences between communities also tended to show up in varying rates of savings withdrawal. In general, the Chicago Reserve bank states, large accounts were found to turn over more slowly than small accounts.

SECTIONS OF THE Chicago area which registered the greatest relative growth in population also have recorded high withdrawal rates.

For example, banks in the faster-growing northwest part of the metropolitan area, which includes such suburbs as Skokie, Morton Grove and Deerfield, show more withdrawal activity than banks in older, more-established places like Gary and other southeast communities.

NEVERTHELESS, THE bank says that a substantial part of intercommunity savings account differences remain unexplained. The age of account, prevailing interest rates, the kind of community, its income level, alternative outlets for savings funds and other factors all have a bearing upon the behavior of depositors.

All-told, the Chicago bank's study covered more than 6 million savings accounts in 45 Midwest cities. Of this total, nearly 2½ million accounts were held by Chicagoans. (BB

National Tea Co. Sales Still Up

H. V. McNamara, president, National Tea co., this week announced continued upward trend in sales for the fourth 4-week period of 1957, with total increase for 16 weeks to date in excess of $8 million.

Consolidated sales of National Food Stores and subsidiaries for the 4 weeks ending April 20, 1957 totaled $49,199,062, which was an increase of $2,607,768, and 5.60 per cent ahead of the same period of 1956, when sales were $46,591,294.

Wins Insurance Sales Citation

Henry J. Hasz, 13 S. Wille st., Mt. Prospect, Aid Association for Lutherans district representative, was cited for 1956 life insurance sales leadership as he was named to the AAL President's Club.

The Aid Association for Lutherans has 44 general agents and 385 full-time field representatives. Hasz is one of 133, including 12 general agents, who qualified.

Hasz is a member of the Edward A. Merten agency of Park Ridge. He is a member of St. Paul Lutheran church, Mt. Prospect, where he is serving as church trustee, and belongs to the Men's club and Couple's club. He is on the board of directors of Bethesda Lutheran Home, Watertown, Wisconsin. (BB

Illinois Vets $226 Million In VA Benefits

Veterans and their families in the State of Illinois received approximately $226 million dollars in cash benefits and services from Veterans Administration during fiscal year 1956.

VA said the distribution is outlined in its 1956 Annual Report now on sale at the Government Printing office, Washington 25, D. C.

THE CHIEF cash benefits for living veterans are in the form of compensation for service-connected disabilities and pension for service-connected disabilities and pension for total and permanent non-service-connected disabilities. Pension also is subject to income limitations.

A total of 119,965 living veterans in Illinois received $85½ million dollars in compensation or pension during the year.

Death benefits also are paid in the form of compensation to widows, children and dependent parents of veterans who die of service-connected disabilities and pension to widows and children of wartime veterans who die of non-service-connected disabilities, providing the income of the widows and children does not exceed statutory limitations.

LAST YEAR, the dependents of 40,389 deceased veterans in Illinois received $32 million dollars in death compensation or pension.

Certain GI insurance and indemnity payments totaling $19 million dollars were made to veterans or their beneficiaries in Illinois for the year.

An average of 585 disabled veterans of World War II and of the Korean conflict period in Illinois trained during the year under the vocational rehabilitation act to overcome the handicaps of their disabilities. They received one million dollars in subsistence, tuition, supplies and equipment.

Under the World War II GI Bill, an average of 3,463 veterans in Illinois trained during the year and they received $1½ million dollars in subsistence allowances, tuition, supplies and equipment.

UNDER THE KOREA GI Bill, an average of 26,622 veterans in Illinois trained during the year and they received $34 million dollars in education and training allowances.

The remainder of the cash benefits and services distributed to veterans and their families of Illinois during the year totaled $52 million dollars.

These cash benefits and services included hospitalization, medical and dental care, prosthetic appliances, automobiles for certain disabled, "Wheel chair" homes for the seriously disabled, administrative costs to administer the benefits, and miscellaneous benefits.

VA EXPLAINED that certain expenditures made during the year cannot be broken down on a state basis because of the nature of the benefits or services. These include certain GI insurance payments and certain administrative expenditures.

VA said the total of $226 million dollars spent in Illinois during the yea. was the minimum amount of cash benefits and services for the state. (WUS

Fantastic New Aerosol Spray
with GIBBERELLIC ACIDS
MAKES PLANTS GROW UP TO 3 TIMES FASTER AND LARGER!

GIBBIN

Produces longer, sturdier stems, greener, more flourishing foliage . . . speeds seed production . . . increases fruit set . . . speeds turf growth . . . stimulates astonishing growth in African Violets, geraniums, petunias, roses, sun flowers, dwarf dahlias, holly, ivy, ornamental trees . . . and most types of house and garden plants.

What Is Gibberellic Acid?

Gibberellic Acid is the most effective plant growth stimulant of our time.

It is not a fertilizer, not a hormone, yet so potent that one-millionth of a gram can cause plants to climb to three times their normal height. Less than an ounce is enough to speed the growth of an entire acre of vegetables. Imagine what a little will do to your lawn, your rose bushes, your potted plants, your pride as an amateur horticulturist!

Toll Road Opens 3 More Bids

Proposals for constructing 9.4 more miles of the Tri-State tollway, including a 4.39-mile strip east of Des Plaines and a 5.01-mile segment south and west of Harvey, were opened Thursday by the Illinois State Toll Highway commission.

Charles L. Dearing, executive dirctor of the commission, said that the apparent low bids totaled $18,100,206.00 and that 3 roadway sections were involved. The commission now has a total of 171.07 miles — more than nine-tenths of the project — either under construction contract or advertised for bids, he said.

OF THIS total, construction contracts for 131.22 miles have been awarded, and proposals covering another 18.16 miles, including today's, have been opened and are pending award. Only 5 of the project's 49 construction sections remain to be advertised for bids.

Sections T-9A and T-9B involve a half-cloverleaf interchange with two access ramps at Des Plaines River road and Touhy avenue, a similar interchange near Rand road and Dempster street, a partial cloverleaf near Golf and East River roads, two steel bridges, and eight pre-cast concrete structures.

Steel structures will carry the tollway over Algonquin road at one location and over both Busse highway and the Chicago & North Western railway at a second location.

Pre-cast concrete structures will carry the tollway over Des Plaines River road, Touhy avenue, the Des Plaines river, Oakton street, Rand road, Dempster street, Ballard road, and Golf road. (B7

Third Class Mail Doesn't Get First Class Service

by REV. WILLIAM McGILL

The users of bulk mail privileges have been rather soundly berated in the past few weeks.

Some persons have been inclined to blame bulk mail for all the deficits which the post office has incurred. Only a few newspapers here and there have risen to defend themselves against the charges of third-class "garbage mail."

MY MAIL has just come and a rather large proportion of it, as usual, was third class mail in which I have little interest. On the other hand, I might be about to send out a third class letter myself. And there is something to be said for third-class mailers.

For one thing, third-class imprint mailers do not receive as much service as first class mailers.

Let's face it: the largest single cost of doing any kind of business is the personnel cost. That's true of the postal service or General Motors.

A LETTER with 3 cents postage may be dropped in a box by the mailer. A man picks it up, takes it to the station. Another person sorts it and puts it in a bundle bound for its destination. That bundle is unwrapped, distributed according to postal route. The man on the route sorts his mail according to the route.

Third class mail skips the first part of this process. This mail must be taken to the post office by the mailer.

When it arrives, he must already have sorted it according to destination and tied it in bundles, not larger than fifty envelopes. Only those communities to which he sends less than 8 copies may be bundled as "miscellaneous."

The larger his total mailings, the more services he must perform before delivering mail to the post office.

THERE MAY BE some question as to whether first or third-class postal rates accurately reflect the cost of handling mail.

But there is a proper difference between them because of the amount of service which the post office gives each type of mail and the amount of service which is required of the mailer. (B10

Concert Series Campaign Starts

The tenth season of the Arlington Heights Community Concert Association will begin with the annual dinner for workers on Monday, May 13.

This dinner provides an opportunity for the 125-150 volunteer workers to obtain instructions and campaign material, as well as talk over comments and suggestions made by the membership during the past season.

FOR THE TENTH year the membership campaign will be confined to one week, May 13 through May 18. Only during this week are memberships available to anyone and everyone. Each membership entitles the member to attend all concerts that are given, as well as community concerts in other areas. No single admissions are sold, and after the one week, no memberships are available until the following year.

These concerts of outstanding internationally known artists are available to members right in their own backyards, no long transportation problem, no added expense, just the annual dues of $7.50 for adults and $3.50 for students.

HEADQUARTERS will be at: Allen Paint Store, 11 West Davis, Arlington Heights. A telephone is being installed for the use of Community Concerts only, and the number is CLearbrook 5-8255.

A full symphony orchestra is on the fare for this next season, with other outstanding concert attractions. (B7

NEEDLE in the GROOVE

by PAUL LITTLE

One of the most delightful discs in months comes from Mercury in the 12-inch waxing of music by LeRoy Anderson, blithely and rousingly performed by Frederick Fennell with the Eastman-Rochester "Pops" Orchestra. Anderson has for years entertained us with his gift for orchestrating simple and popular tunes (originals, we hasten to add) in classical orchestral style, and we still recall with pleasure nearly a generation ago having heard his ingenious variations on "Pop Goes the Weasel" by the dignified Boston "Pops" Orchestra, as well as "The Whistler and His Dog." At any rate, here is a program of infectiously gay music, played as a full symphony orchestra would play it, done to a T in super hi-fi reproduction. We predict that even people who say they "hate classical music" will revel in it.

Capitol's new 12-inch pairing of Benjamin Britten's stunning "Young Person's Guide to the Orchestra" with Ernest von Dohnanyi's delectable "Variations on a Nursery Tune for Piano and Orchestra" (P-8373) is an absolute gem as regards entertainment. The Britten work is practically a course in music appreciation; starting with a simple theme by the great Purcell (England's first great composer some three centuries back). Britten develops the theme so that each instrumental choir of the orchestra "shows off," till it ends in a tremendous hi-fi finale. And the Dohnanyi work is a masterpiece of melody, wit, poetry and gentle satire on some of the more pompous composers of our day.

FROM EPIC, directed by genial music loving Bill Nielsen, we applaud a complete recording of Mozart's "La Finta Semplice," K. 51, an opera written by a boy of 11 or 12, yet a work that stands up very well to our modern ears — proof, indeed, of the genius of this shortlived composer whose own wife did not like his music. Arthur Grumiaux, the young Belgian violinist who is rapidly becoming known as one of the world's best because of his warm eloquence, understanding and superlative technique, enchants us with a 12-inch disc that programs the Bach A Minor and E Major Violin Concerti with the Griller Chamber Orchestra. If any of you believe that Bach wrote only "mathematical" music, hear these beautiful violin concerti as Grumiaux plays them: vitality, gravity, lyricism and sheer joy of life abound in their movements. Sound is flawlessly crisp and true. We tested this and all other albums with a home system comprising the Miracord XA-100 3-speed changer (which may be played manually by merely changing spindle), with hum-free, wide range Miratwin cartridge, the Electro-Voice 15-watt amplifier with all controls, and the "Kal Audette" two-way speaker system, compact enough to set on a bookcase shelf, yet capable of full orchestral ranges.

Total Corn, Bean Stocks Fall Below Expectation

by L. H. SIMERL

Total stocks of corn and soybeans on April 1 were less than some observers expected. This brightened price prospects, but supplies are still at record high levels.

Total stocks of corn on April 1 were estimated at 2,587 million bushels, or 12 per cent more than the record for the date set a year earlier.

THE DISAPPEARANCE of corn during January-March was 823 million bushels, 6 per cent more than one year before. This rapid use surprised some observers, since hog numbers were about the same as last year. But more corn was required to replace oats and to supplement poor pastures and ranges. The carryover next October 1 now appears likely to be around 1,400 millioo bushels, or one-fifth more than last year.

On March 1 farmers indicated that they would cut their corn acreage 5 per cent below that of 1956. However, most of this reduction was on low-yielding land, and soil moisture now is generally more favorable than it was a year ago and some land intended for oats may be planted to corn.

CCC sales of corn will be cut in coming weeks, but needs for feed will also be trimmed. Only small price changes are expected, as buyers' and sellers' price ideas seem to be geared to the $1.25 support level.

STOCKS OF SOYBEANS on April 1 totaled 217 million bushels, 23 per cent more than the previous record for the date set a year ago. Stocks on farms and in country elevators were much larger than last year, while stocks at processing plants and terminal elevators were smaller.

Farm stocks were 116 million bushels, 93 percent more than the year before. Country elevators held 47 million bushels, 73 per cent more than the previous year.

Processing plants on April 1 held 44 million bushels of beans, 34 per cent less than a year ago. Stocks, in terminal elevators totaled 10 million bushels, 56 per cent less than the year before.

The CCC has no soybeans now and had none a year ago. On June 1, however, the CCC will become the owner of perhaps 50 million bushels that farmers have pledged for price support loans. These beans will be offered for sale at market prices, but not less than the support level plus 1½ cents a month for carrying charges. Purchasers may be able to buy CCC beans as low as $2.26 on track in June.If so, bids to farmers would be around $2.20.

LAST FALL THE carryover of old beans was only 3 million bushels. The carryover next fall may be around 30 million bushels. This amount would not be excessive, but it is much more than normal.

The 1957 crop of soybeans may exceed last year's record. Farmers on March 1 indicated that they would plant 3½ per cent more acres than last year. Some fields then intended for oats may now be planted to beans, and the national average yield may be higher than it was last year.

If You Act Quickly, You Can Still Save Peonies

April showers may have damaged your peonies, but if you act quickly you can save them.

Botyrtis blight is the common but serious disease of the peony, especially during prolonged wet weather. in early spring the young shoots may be attacked at the base by the fungus. Affected tissue turns black, and the stems wilt and fall over. The young flower buds may be attacked later and react in a similar way.

TO HELP CONTROL this disease during cloudy, damp weather, use several applications of a suitable fungicide, such as captan or zineb. Also keep the garden area free of plant debris.

Usually peonies require only a moderate amount of care. They thrive best in a deep, mellow, fertile, moderately moist loam soil. They are gross feeders and tend to deplete the soil of plant nutrients, so they can use several applications of fertilizer during the growing season.

A good fertilizer for peonies contains some nitrogen, phosphorus and potassium. If possible, make one application about 2 weeks before the bloom date, one light application 30 days after bloom date and another 30 days later.

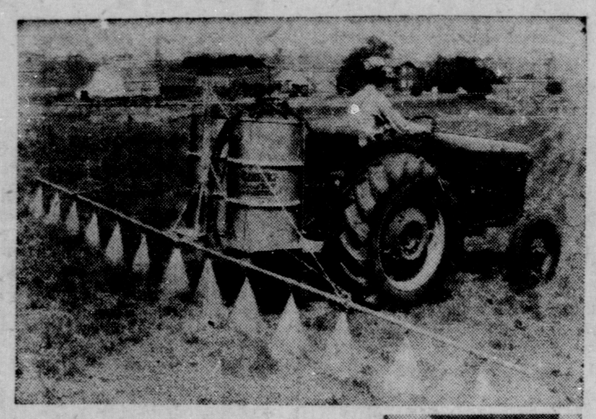
Applying liquid-fertilizer solution about 2 weeks before the bloom date will produce larger and better flowers and foilage. Do not, however, apply the fertilizer solution to the plant tissue. If some accidentally gets on the plant surfaces, rinse it with water.

BESIDES THESE nutrient requirements, the soil needs to be moist from the time the plants are in bud through the flowering period.

Plant the peonies in an area where there is plenty of sunlight, because they will not bloom if there is too much shade.

If you want extra-fine blooms, especially with the double flowering varieties, remove all lateral buds as soon as they form, leaving one terminal bud on each stem.

Peonies are excellent for a perennial border because of their attractive colors and interesting forms. The colors include white, buff, various shades of pink, crimson magenta and bicolors. The leaves of some varieties are dainty and fern-like, while the leaves of others are strong and leathery. Some varieties are dwarf and bushy, some are medium in height and others are tall with a stately outline. (Fm



New "Spray-Rater" that takes the guess work out of chemical spraying is easy to use. Lightweight and all but unbreakable, it straps under nozzle to give calibrated readings which instantly tell rig's rate of spray. It is available with purchase of weedkillers this spring.

Weedkillers, insecticides and other farm chemicals offer amazing results and real dollar savings in modern farming. They are scientific tools, however, which give best results and savings when applied at exactly the recommended rate per acre. There is only one sure way to do that: calibrate your spray rig every time before you spray.

Many things beside pressure and ground speed can vary the rate of spray of a rig. The distance from gauge to boom can mean pressure loss and so can the size of the hose. Nozzel wear is a factor, too. Guessing at spray rates is gambling on results and savings that can be sure things if you take time to calibrate your rig.

A fast and easy way to avoid such guessing is being offered this year by one of the major farm chemicals producers. The company's agricultural specialists have designed and field-tested a plastic "Spray-Rater" which measures the rate per acre of any liquid spray from boom-type rigs. The device works on the same principle as the quart glass canning jars used by some for measuring nozzle spray rates. However, there is not the danger of breakage as with glass jars, and the clear plastic sides of the container are calibrated like a measuring cup to show the rate per acre of spray for various nozzle spacings on the boom. The container also can be used to measure out the concentrate accurately in ounces for recommended spray strength.

Purchasers of the company's weedkillers can obtain the "Spray-Rater" at considerably less than its retail value of $2.50.

Chemical Combats Thistles

Amino triazole, a new chemieal, appears to be very effective in killing most strains of Canada thistle, reports E. C. Spurrier, University of Illinois agronomist.

Although ATA has not been cleared by the pure food and drug administration for crop land use, it does give a high degree of kill when 4 to 6 pounds of active material in 30 to 40 gallons of water are applied to thistles 8 to 12 inches tall.

SPURRIER, IN cooperation with W. O. Scott and F. W. Slife of the University of Illinois agronomy staff, has prepared a new publication, "Chemical Control of Weeds and Brush."

It discusses 19 different weed control chemicals, safety measures that should be taken in using them, adjustment of spraying equipment and many other topics.

This publication is Circular 771, now available without charge from your county farm adviser or the University of Illinois, college of agriculture, Urbana. (Fm

Corn Planters Face Season With Sufficient Moisture

For the first time in several years, the main corn growing areas are going into the planting season with sufficient moisture.

Heavy rains in the latter half of April brought from 6 to 10 inches to many sections — particularly to the southwest, southeast and the Mississippi and Ohio valleys.

Heavy snows in March provided additional valuable moisture to areas just west of the Central Corn Belt. States in the dust bowl — Colorado, Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas and Nebraska — have had the most rain they have had in the last 6 years. The only area not reporting heavy April rainfall were central and western Iowa, northeastern and southeastern Nebraska and southwestern Minnesota.

ALL OF THIS much-needed rainfall has delayed spring seeding from 1 to 3 weeks in most sections. This will mean a reduced oats acreage, which will divert more acres to the production of corn, soybeans and sorghum.

Up until May 1, almost no corn had been planted. Wet weather had kept farmers out of the fields. Even in southern Kansas and Missouri, where April planting is common, almost no acreage was planted on May 1st. Even as far south as Louisiana, corn planting was delayed because of continued rain.

RAIN STOPPED in most areas around April 29, and with modern mechanized equipment, soil preparation and planting will proceed very rapidly. With the ample supply of moisture available in most areas, the 1957 corn crop should be off to the best start in several years.

Participation in the "soil bank," whereby, farmers are paid for setting aside acreage for soil improvement is heaviest in last year's drought areas and in industrialized areas and states where many farmers are only part time. Compliance with "corn acreage allotment" which aims to specifically cut corn production, will be small as most farmers believe their individual allotments to be too low. (Fm

Spring Calves Are Not Ready to Rely on Pasture

Very young calves cannot eat pasture to meet their needs for rapid growth.

Leo Fryman, extension dairy specialist at the University of Illinois college of agriculture, suggests that you keep calves born after January in the barn on a full feed of good-quality hay and four to five pounds of grain.

Let them run on pastures near the barn, Fryman says, but also let them return to the barn during the heat of the day or when flies are bad.

You can gradually shift heifers to pasture feed after they are six months old, but until they are a year old they'll probably need some grain and extra roughage for best growth.

YEARLING HEIFERS can make good growth on high-quality pasture with little or no supplementary feed except salt and minerals. Heifers of all ages need free access to salt, a mineral mixture, water and shade.

Fryman believes too many heifers are neglected during the pasture season and don't get enough feed for normal growth. If your pastures are short or scanty, give the heifers a supplemental feeding of roughage and grain so that they will reach their maximum size as two-year-olds. (Fm

Liquid, Solid Fertilizers Vary Little, Tests Reveal

So far, tests at midwest agricultural experiment stations have shown no significant differences in results obtained with solid and liquid mixed fertilizers, reports E. H. Tyner, University of Illinois Agronomist.

Tyner says that farmers should decide between the 2 types of fertilizers by comparing post per pound of plant food and handling advantages.

Liquid mixed fertilizers are now available in most areas of Illinois. There are about 30 producers in the state.

Tyner points out that liquid mixed fertilizers are produced in different ways, but most solutions have similar characteristics. The total plant food content is usually not higher than 30 per cent.

ON THE WHOLE, except for phosphorus, the chemicals used in liquid and dry fertilizers are identical. Just because the mix is liquid does not necessarily make it more efficient in supplying plant foods.

When liquid fertilizers are subjected to low temperatures, there is danger that some of the plant food will salt out. So mixtures with the same analysis to be used during the winter are usually made somewhat differently from those for use during warm weather.

Most solutions are neutral, but the materials are still corrosive. Although stainless steel and soft steel are not attacked strongly, nevertheless all equipment should be cleaned after use with liquid fertilizers.

TYNER EXPLAINS that all liquid mixes carry some nitrogen because anhydrous ammonia is a necessary ingredient. Dry mixes can be produced to carry no nitrogen.

Liquid fertilizers can be applied in the row or sprayed on the surface. The materials are hot and will usually kill plant leaves. Therefore you should apply them before the crop is seeded or in a way to avoid leaf contact. (Fm

Four American Coeds Find Gaiety, Adventure in Paris

by MARY KINGSLEY

Our Christmas holiday trip began as 4 other American girls and I boarded the first train to London after finishing our exams.

After spending the night at the YWCA, we caught a special bus to the coast from Victoria coach station - destination Paris. We found the combination of bus and plane the cheapest way to reach Paris.

None of us could speak a word of French, and the French are notoriously uninterested in foreign languages, so our troubles began as soon as we arrived in the great city. We had no trouble in hailing a taxi, but got into a wild dispute with the driver almost immediately.

We couldn't understand why he seemed reluctant to take us, so we just climbed into the cab over his protests. We found out later that only 4 people can legally occupy a taxi and there had been 5 of us.

THE DRIVER spoke no English but obligingly pointed out the sights as he drove us to our hotel. Wide-eyed with wonder, we rode past the Tuileries and down the Champs Elysees. Once at our hotel, a small one about 4 blocks off the Champs Elysees, we were delighted to find that our rooms were enormous, with French doors and a balcony above the street, a fireplace and hot and cold running water. Our topfloor rooms, were less expensive because the tiny 2-person elevator carried people up but not down.

Self-service restaurants proved a great help, both budget-wise and because of our language difficulties. For just under a dollar we were able to get a substantial dinner, and without tipping. Tips are an accepted fact in Paris, and unless you have been forewarned, it may well seem that everyone has his hand out.

WE SPENT our 8 days in Paris dashing around seeing all the places normally visited by tourists - the Pantheon, the Madeleine (a church built in the style of a Greek temple), Eiffel tower. Christmas eve we took the metro up to Montmartre and walked through the Sacre Couer (Church of the Sacred Heart). I shall never forget seeing the sunset over the city from the hill of Montmartre. Later we joined the long queue waiting to enter Notre Dame cathedral for the midnight service.

Having developed an interest in art through one of my courses in Edinburgh, I spent a delightful day in the Louvre. Halfway through the afternoon I ran across an American friend with whom I later had dinner (snails, wine and French bread) in a little cafe on the Left Bank.

WE FOUND the metro the quickest way to get about, for if we walked we always ended up window shopping and this took hours to get down town. The clothes displayed were elegantly beautiful, always wellcut and in exquisite taste, as well as being dreadfully expensive. I finally consoled myself by buying a few Parisian dress patterns.

Winter is perhaps not the best time to visit Paris, when you have seen the fairyland of Christmas lights over the sidewalks and walked down the Champs Elysees and seen the Arcade Triumphe lighted up in the distance you cannot but admit that Paris is enchanting anytime of the year. (B7

Association News

Board of managers of Arlington Crest Civic association held a meeting Wednesday in the Matz' residence. The next regular association meeting will be held Wednesday, May 15, at 8 p.m. in the Goodpasture home on Olive st. This being the last meeting of the season, everyone is urged to attend.

The card party committee met Wednesday to make final arrangements for the May 18 card party to be held at the Legion hall, Palatine. The committee reports numerous valuable gifts. Plans indicate an enjoyable evening in store for everyone attending.

Scout News

Boy Scout troop 95 held its bonfire Saturday evening. Second class badges were awarded to Bruce Cook, David Wenzel and Corky Thome. These awards were made following a board of review recommendation by the scout committee. Troop 95 will hold an overnight camporee May 11 and 12 at Deer Grove park. Friends and parents are welcome to join them Sunday, May 12. Cub scouts of den 2 are proud of their uniforms, which they received this past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Weikel of Warren ave. spent the weekend on a business and pleaure trip to Milwaukee.

Linda Vehrs returned to school Monday after recovering from scarlet fever.

Darlene Twarowski, being a member of the graduating class of Oak Street school, spent Thursday and Friday visiting Springfield and New Salem. Points of interest were the Capitol building and New Salem, a replica of President Lincoln's days.

Mrs. Mary Shelton of Warren ave. is seriously ill in Sherman hospital, Elgin. She has been receiving several blood transfusions and will be needing more. Anyone able and willing to donate blood to replace what she has received would be appreciated. Cards would also be a help for her recovery. For information about blood donations, call Mrs. Shelton's home. (AP

Wilson Community News

Wilson School

Wilson school PTA will hold its monthly meeting Tuesday, May 14, in the multipurpose room at 8 p.m. The installation of new officers will be on the agenda. Speaker for the evening will be an FBI man. Refreshments will be served at the end of the meeting.

Enrollment blanks for the September session of the kindergarten will be mailed this week to all parents of children in the 5-year age group. The enrollment blanks must be returned by May 29. Anyone who is not on the mailing list and would like information may contact Mrs. Betty Klopfenstein, CL 5-1828, secretary of the kindergarten association.

Girl Scouts

Brownie troop 495 under the leader, Mrs. Mary Kale, with Jean Guderley, Ruth Knudsen and Mrs. Rogers, took 24 brownies on a hike May 1. They had refreshments while hiking.

Home

The Max Hersheys of Palatine rd. recently returned from a 2-week tour of Florida. While there they visited the Ralph Freemans, former residents of Palatine rd., who now reside in Kissimmee, Fla.

Susie and Donna Weidner, 1643 N. Highland, celebrated their second birthday May 7. Their parents, Mickey and Don held an open house for their families.

Denise Seppala, 205 Waverly, entertained 4 friends for lunch and a movie in celebration of her ninth birthday Saturday. Those present were Pat Klint, Carol Clyde, Lynn Jester, Susan Rollefson and Karen, Kathy and Craig Seppala. Saturday evening Denise's parents held a family party for her at Old Orchard country club.

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Clough, 211 Ridge, entertained Mr. Clough's brother and his wife last weekend. The G. V. Cloughs reside in Milwaukee.

Enjoy European Films

Lisa and Sheldon Bauer, Ridge rd., had an entertaining day Sunday when Lisa's brother from Chicago showed colored films of his European trip, which included his former home in Denmark. Neighbors invited to see the ovies were Kay and Ed Mayer, Lorraine and Frode Neilsen, Goldie Clough and Grace Borklum, Lisa's sister. Refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Opela, 1520 N. State rd., had an interesting trip with their children Saturday, when they visited the Indian bazaar at the Olivet Institute in Chicago. Many Indian tribes were represented and they gave their ceremonial dances in authentic costumes. There were genuine tepees and different types of handicraft which could be purchased at the booths.

Several children in this district made their first holy communion Saturday in St. James Catholic church, Arlington Heights. Among them were Bill Baumer Jr., Michael Glimes, Mary Ann Zeinz, Linda Rausher, Billy Pickert, Frank Shaw, Wayne Salzeman, Sharon Peszat and David Fredricks. Individual parties with relatives and friends attending were held by many of the parents after the service. (B7

Elk Grove News

School News

The school has been a busy place this past week. Every evening the lights have been burning late because so many parents and friends of the school are getting ready for the Spring Frolic. The "Laddies" of the International dancing group have been meeting at the school to practice. The mothers of the children in the dancing class have been sewing costumes. The men of the Men's club have been planning the decorations for the dance Saturday night, and the school board had its regular monthly meeting. The Mothers' club will give away many gifts at their Spring Frolic.

It is hoped that friends and neighbors will be at the school for the fun-packed evening which will also serve a worthy cause.

The men are giving away a radio at their dance Saturday night. Music for dancing will be furnished by the Four Notes, who will begin playing at 8 p.m. Refreshments will be served both evenings.

At the regular monthly meeting of the Elk Grove Mothers' club will be held Thursday, May 9. Election of officers will be held. All members are urged to attend this important meeting.

Tree Planting

It was tree planting time at the Boy Scout camp at Wild Rose, Wis. and Mr. Adams, scoutmaster of troop 58, helped with his son, Mickey. They drove to the camp Friday and returned Sunday.

Den 4 spent Saturday at Brookfield zoo with Mrs. Miller, den mother. All cubs and parents are reminded that the pack meets Thursday, May 16, in the school gym.

Monday, May 13, there will be an election for the free school building. This is for the school being given to the district by the Centex Corp. and represents no tax burden to the community.

Mr. and Mrs. John Schmuz have returned from their trip to California and reported that they encountered all kinds of weather. They traveled through snow, ice and tornadoes and Elk Grove was a very welcome sight.

Mr. and Mrs. George Grupe of Lincoln lane are planning a trip to Holcomb, Wis. Sharon Grupe has been visiting her grandparents, the Christies, and will return with her parents.

The Roy Hightowers had a weekend visit with S/sgt. John Makaukas of Ft. Monmouth, N.J., who is related to Mr. Hightower.

Recovering

Tom Nunamaker is back at school with his autographed cast and reports that staying at home was not so bad. He will have to forego all sports for at least 6 weeks. That is a hardship, because Tom likes his baseball. Nothing further has been heard of Robert Greco, but he too will be back to school.

Jim Griffith suffered a broken collarbone last week but it is mending and he is in school.

The school band will give the annual spring concert May 17 at 7:30 in the school gym. It is always a pleasant evening.

Gym Class

The Mothers club gym class will meet May 15 and all members and friends are urged to come out for a social evening. Everyone does not have to play volley ball, there are also ping pong tables and just plain chairs to use. It is hoped that more mothers will attend and get to know their neighbors and the mothers of their children's friends. (A-10

Catholic Charities Stage Fund Appeal May 12

The annual collection for the Catholic Charities of Chicago will be held in more than 400 Catholic churches of the Chicago Archdiocese Sunday, May 12.

Cardinal Stritch has asked for record contributions to meet the needs of the 77 agencies under the administration of the Catholic Charities.

The cost of the Catholic Charitable program in Cook and Lake counties last year exceeded 9 million dollars. During the year Catholic Charities gave care or service to 298,810 children and adults.

MONSIGNOR VINCENT W. Rooke, supervisor of Charities, said this performance was possible only because 745 priests and sisters dedicate their services to the welfare of the needy.

In an appeal to the clergy and laity of the Archdiocese, Cardinal Stritch said: "The constantly expanding Catholic Charities are but the expression of our Christian charity toward our neighbors in need."

Many of the 77 Catholic agencies also serve people of other faiths. A few of these agencies are St. Vincent's Infant Asylum, House of the Good Shepherd, St. Mary of Providence Institute for mentally retarded girls, and Lt. Joseph P. Kennedy Jr. School for mentally retarded boys. About one-third of the thousands day nurseries and community centers are not Catholic. (B7

Mr. and Mrs. Keith Beine are parents of a son, Kenneth Dale, born April 30 in Elmhurst hospital. The baby weighed 7 pounds.

Sunday morning Susan Kappa, Susan Horbus and Larry Krause were confirmed in Bethany church, Itasca. There were 6 others in the class. In honor of this event, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Briars, Mr. and Mrs. William Noelle and Mrs. Bankwitz visited in the Kappa home.

Since Susan Horbus' birthday was also May 5, a combination birthday and confirmation was held for her. Guests were the Ben Grothmanns, the Vern Follets and the Kenneth Grothmanns.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Chezem visited with the Harold Ollmanns Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Chezem and Mrs. Ollmann were friends at North Central college, Chicago.

Friday evening Keith Glading and his father, Mr. Glading, professional square dance caller of the Little Square Dance club in Niles, visited the Bob Kims and the lads and lassies who were there for square dancing.

Mrs. Doris Kelly and her younger son, Billy, spent Sunday in Chicago in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gallner.

Roger Kim was home from school for 2 weeks with chicken pox.

Saturday night the John Kappas and the Bob Kims went to a square dance in Lake Zurich.

Billy Kelly will celebrate his birthday May 12.

Saturday evening the Men's club will sponsor a dance. Square dancing and regular dancing are on the program. Bob Kim has been asked to call for the square dances and the Lads and Lassies will be there. It will be held in the Elk Grove school gym.

Donald Leo Ostrowski is the new addition to the Ed Ostrowski family. He was born April 25 in St. Francis hospital and weighed 7 pounds 14 ounces at birth. Donald has 2 brothers and 2 sisters.

Dale Ostrowski was 4 May 2, Gary Kessler was 6 May 5 and Susan Horbus was 14 May 5.

Farewell Party

Friday evening a farewell party was given in honor of Mrs. Roy Thompson at the home of the George Krizeks. The Thompsons have moved to Arlington Heights. A farewell gift of a house plant was presented to Mrs. Thompson. The guest list included Mrs. Oscar Miller and Mrs. Bob Gross of Arlington Heights, and Mesdames Art Cisewski, Joe Warfsman, Leo Becker, Ernnie Lundstrom, Gary Johnson, Clyde House, Louis Sylvester, William Whitelaw, Adam Kwiecinski, Robert Marchetti, Tom Merritt, Henry Combs and Jim Salisbury. The ladies made hats out of paper plates, doilies, ribbon and paper napkins, and many new and amusing styles were concocted.

Mr. and Mrs. George Lowe of Glenview, and Mrs. Corinne Busch, of Muskegon, Mich., were the guests of the Howie Petersons Saturday evening.

The Adam Kwiecinskis entertained the Wally Kwiecinskis of Madison over the weekend.

Saturday morning a birthday celebration was held at June House's for Betty Schneider. Present were Pepper Whitelaw, Virginia Cisewski, Anita Sailer, Ceale Peterson and Betty's mother, Mrs. Ella Grawmier. Mrs. Ann McConnel, June House's grandmother of Chicago was also present.

Parties Prior to Dance

Several cocktail parties were held in Wedgewood Sunday prior to the dance at Chevy Chase, which several couples attended. The dance was sponsored by St. Alphonses Catholic church of Prospect Heights. The Adam Kwiecinskis held one of the parties. Guest list included Eugene and Maralyn Melvin, Grace and Louis Sylvester, Art and Virginia Cisewski, Fred and Pat Johnson and Wally and Kay Kwiecinski.

Wednesday night a surprise baby shower was given for Mary Wirth at the home of Virginia Cisewski. The table decorations and frosting on the cakes, which were made by Evelyn Warfsman, were all in pink, as the Wirths have 3 boys. Even the lemonade was pink. Twenty-two women from Wedgewood attended.

Made First Communion

Among those who made their first communion in St. James Catholic church in Arlington Heights were 2 boys from Wedgewood, Johnny Sylvester and Joey Heckenbach.

Monday morning a "kaffee klatsch" was given in honor of the William Whitelaw's sixth anniversary at the home of June House. Attending were Irene Becker, Ceale Peterson, Maralyn Melvin, Betty Schneider, and, of course, Pepper Whitelaw.

The Wedgewood Improvement association held its meeting Monday night in the basement of Louis Sylvester's home. It was decided to have lights at the entrance ways, as money has been appropriated for that purpose. Cake and coffee were served.

Keep Schools Free of Politics

by REP. PAUL SIMON

Among the most complicated and difficult questions the legislature faces each session are those in the field of education.

The problems range from care of mentally retarded children to transporting children to school. We are asked to decide problems of curriculum (which I think should not be a job of the legislature) and we're asked to solve the big headache of money.

BUT IT LOOKS now, with only a few weeks of the legislative session left, that 2 of the major problems are not going to be tackled. They are:

1) Taking the office of state superintendent of public instruction off the ballot and out of partisan politics so that he can direct all of his efforts to the field of education.

2) Securing a single board of higher education to administer all of the state colleges and universities.

It has always seemed a little strange to approach an election and see the Republican and Democratic candidates for state superintendent of public instruction running up and down the state making partisan political blasts. They certainly have a right to political affiliation and to political expression but political sniping should not be one of the requirements for the office, which it virtually is now.

BUT THAT is not the big thing wrong with our present set-up.

What we lack most is any planning to meet the problems our schools are going to face 10 years from now and 20 years from now. Unless someone does that kind of long-range planning, we're headed for some real trouble.

We know, for example, approximately what our school population will be 10 years from now. But we don't know where the money will come from to meet this great demand — and no one is doing anything to find out.

The School Problems Commission, established by the legislature, is probably the hardest working commission the state had. They have done a superb job, but they have not had the time to look into long-range problems to any extent.

A group called the Illinois Citizens Education committee has been formed and may furnish part of the answer. They are off to a good start.

But I frankly doubt that we will get a really solid look into our somewhat uncomfortable future until the function of the state superintendent of public instruction is changed.

To stay in office now, he must worry about the next election. It should be changed so that to stay in office he must worry about the next generation.

THE SECOND major need is for one board to handle our higher education problems.

It is a tragic truth that today there is no state group which is asking these 2 questions: 1) What are our statewide needs? 2) How can we most effectively meet those needs?

The nearest we have come to that is a Higher Education Commission which made a report to this session. Among its members were some of the state's finest legislators and outstanding college presidents.

But they did not do the kind of a job the school problems commission has done. In have the feeling (and I hope I am wrong) that the report will satisfy existing colleges more than it will satisfy existing needs.

The separate boards of our present state colleges and universities are each doing good work, but there is little coordination and much competition. And major needs are going unmet.

The state will suffer until we have the coordination which one board can give us.

Community Concerts Important to Area

For the past 9 years, the very best concert talent available in the United States has come to Arlington Heights to entertain the membership of the Arlington Heights Community Concert association. This talent and these concerts are possible only through the support of the members of the association.

The Community Concert plan is a simple one: An association is formed, composed of officers and a board of directors who serve voluntarily as a nucleus around which a staff of workers is formed.

AN INTENSIVE one-week membership campaign begins with a dinner meeting of the 125-150 workers, and ends 6 days later. Memberships in the Association are available this one week only on the basis of annual dues which admit members to all concerts. Non-members cannot attend concerts and no single tickets are sold to individual concerts. This enables the association to book concerts within the limits of the fund established during the campaign week and makes it unnecessary for anyone to assume burdens of financial risk. All funds collected from members at $7.50 for adults and $3.50 for students are spent for expenses and talent. This is entirely a non-profit community undertaking.

Community concerts provide access to world famous artists, the most comprehensive roster of great names of music and the fresh new talent who will be the great names of tomorrow.

No artist can afford to travel across the nation to give one concert, but through the 900 Community Concert associations in various parts of the United States, many concerts are booked for the artists making it possible to provide each association with the largest selection of artists and at the lowest cost.

DURING THE 9 years that the Arlington Heights Community Concert association has been in existence, 39 outstanding concerts have been given with an expenditure for talent of approximately $47,000. With this sum of money spent for talent, topnotch soloists, ensembles and symphony orchestras have been the fare for the membership.

A great many people are enthusiastically giving their time and effort to make these concerts available to anyone and everyone who desires to become a member during the week of May 13.

This past season a varied type of concert was presented. The first of the season was last October when Herman Godes, a fine concert pianist, gave an outstanding concert. Then in November the famed Lois Marshall was presented to the membership. On January 20, Marina Svetlova and her dance group gave a fine and diversified program. In March the 85-piece Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra appeared and finally on April 7, The Chanticleers, a male quartet combined acting and singing to provide excellent entertainment. All 5 concerts for a nominal sum.

The 1957-58 season will again contain a full symphony orchestra with other outstanding attractions.

Zoning Czar of Cook County

Why Judge Fisher Should Be Defeated in June Elections

Circuit Judge Harry M. Fisher has set himself up as the zoning czar of Cook county.

Judge Fisher has, in effect, decreed that he is the man who is the proper authority to say whether a factory, drive-in theater or home should go up in that vacant lot next door to you or a few blocks away.

As we pointed out here last week, he has for the past several years allowed property owners to come to his courtroom and ask permission to use their land for these and other purposes.

Yet municipal zoning boards and the Cook county zoning board of appeals (since 1940) were established with an identical function: to control land use in accordance with tested planning procedures and local desires. Presently, both property owners whose petitions are rejected by local bodies and owners who never went before local authorities are flocking to Judge Fisher's court.

Paddock Publications urges the defeat of Judge Fisher in the coming June 3 election.

This newspaper feels he has taken unto himself a task better left to duly constituted zoning boards. Secondly, Judge Fisher has time and again ruled against the best interests of the community in the exercise of his judicial power.

Here is one example:

The owners of a 128 acre tract of land within the city of Des Plaines asked the city to rezone it for industry. The Bauske and Premier nurseries occupy the site.

The property is surrounded by one-family home zoning. These home owners thought they were moving into a stable residential neighborhood. The property owners claimed the tract, bordered on one side by a rail line, was best suited to industrial development.

The city refused to rezone it and the nursery owners carried their appeal to Judge Fisher.

Judge Fisher decided in favor of the industry. Now Des Plaines in turn will direct an appeal to a higher court, the Illinois State Supreme court. The city will contend that rezoning for industry would be "spot zoning." An island of industry would be created, completely surrounded by residential areas.

In this and most other zoning cases the basic question is: Who is going to get hurt?

Should the industry be allowed in to the detriment of residential property values? Or should the tract owners be permitted to sell to the highest bidder, here to industry?

The right to answer this question, we strongly submit, belongs to the citizens of the community most affected.

3 Driver Attitudes Cause Accidents

Three wrong driver attitudes are key factors in the causes of more than 90 per cent of all highway accidents.

This fact was established recently by the Institute for Safer Living of the American Mutual Liability Insurance company, as the result of a cross-section study of that company's accident claim cases.

THE 3 NEGATIVE attitudes that contributed most to highway accidents were identified as incompetence, arrogance and ignorance. Of these 3, incompetence and arrogance were most prevalent. About 36 per cent of the accidents studied were traceable to some form of unskilled driving, arrogant drivers accounted for 35 per cent of the total, and 15 per cent were chargeable to plain ignorance.

The Institute defined incompetence as general inability to handle a car as well as it should be driven, and inability to make the correct decisions in emergencies. Arrogance was termed habitual defiance of traffic laws, resentment against authority, "thumbing the nose" at good safety practices and consistent overestimation of driving skill, while ignorance was defined as a general lack of knowledge in regard to car inspection, traffic conditions, and vehicle regulations.

About 96 per cent of all accidents resulting from these attitudes are collisions between 2 or more vehicles, according to the study. In a large number of collision cases it was found that both drivers were guilty of a wrong attitude.

SPEEDING AND drinking while driving, the 2 greatest direct accident causes, appear to stem mostly from arrogant attitudes, although a number of cases of speeding were also classified under incompetence and ignorance.

Over-all study results clearly pointed out that the arrogant driver who resents authority and dislikes obeying rules is the one most likely to be involved in a serious accident. Next to him comes the drinking driver whose arrogance leads him to believe that he can handle a couple of drinks and several thousand pounds of hurtling steel at the same time.

The study also brings out that much more searching consideration should be given to these three "killer" attitudes both when licensing new drivers, and at periodic driver re-examinations.

Teenagers

The heading "Rash Pranks Plague Police" instead of teenage vandalism certainly was a credit to somebody, our good chief, Paddock's or just the good old city of Arlington.

The last part of the article concerning the two drunks of the older generation (who are supposed to set a good example) causing quite a disturbance should have had a separate space.

TOO MUCH publishing about wrong doings of teenagers, nothing about the good ones who far outnumber them simply makes for "monkey does as monkey sees."

People may dispute this but I feel sure loads of love, importance and a little more praise than is coming to them at home would help keep them from resorting to wrong in order to get in the limelight — the wrong kind of limelight — the kind with a flash bulb at one end.

Please Explain

Won't someone please explain to the citizens of Arlington Heights how the new lights are supposed to work? I have never yet sat on the highway and waited for a red light (with green arrows) but what some other car always passes me (on either side) and turns in the direction for which there is no arrow. Then they get across the tracks while I have to wait for cross traffic (and sometimes another train).

Also, at State rd. I have been frequently passed while waiting for a red light on the south side of the tracks. One day this week I saw the policeman there lecturing a woman for crossing and she looked very bewildered. Probably she had seen everyone else doing it too.

Ranch House Era

Individual pride as a property owner is certainly a requisite for promoting a good neighborhood. The ranch house era, however, has had 2 revolting developments. Picture windows and open garage doors My living room window pictures an abandoned car, 2 open garage doors and a clothesline umbrella. With just a bit more effort these unsightly blights could be eliminated a good part of the time.

And this in a community of homes in the $30,000 to $40,000 bracket!

OUR TAXES are high but the privilege of living "Where Town and Country Meets" is questionable mainly because of a few unthinking individuals.

Is this a hopeless problem?

Each rural mail carrier is allowed two weeks vacation each year without loss of pay. Heights carriers take their lay off this month. Substitute Geo. Allison handles the mail on route 2, the first two weeks of May, while John Rodewald plants his garden; then Allison will take two weeks turn on route 1, so carrier Wm. Becker can enjoy his honeymoon. Girls, you have a perfect right to propose to him, as he is too bashful to pop the question, or he would have been married long ago.

Walter Krause is the lowest bidder and we hope he will land the Cook Co. Poor Farm on the old Meyer farm, one mile west of Arlington Heights, 100 acres of choice land on the C. & N. W. R.R. The commissioners can't do so well anywhere else.

PALATINE —

The northwest corner of Slade and Bothwell streets, Palatine opposite Batterman black would make a nice business corner or would be pleasing as a small park, but as a general dump let us hope it will prove a failure.

Chas. Dennack has graced his new market with a 24-foot gold leaf sign, the handsomest in town. Outside and inside his market compares with the best between Janesville and Chicago.

Otto Schrader has been doing some amateur photography work and the result is some handsome souvenir postals on sale at Olms' drug store. He has got the best possible out of Palatine scenes, and the extensive use of the cards by the public would do the village untold good.

SCHAUMBURG — Our town is just like being dead, let us organize and start up a young men's Brass Band like the former one, which is dissolved. There are plenty leaders who would like to have about 10 members and succeed.

Wm. Japp says it ain't quite easy getting married. Wish you success.

One by one the old settlers are being called to their reward. Maria Hoffman, nee Harke, was born in Germany a little over 71 years ago. She lived many years on a farm north of Itasca. She was the mother of 13 children, 9 have preceded her to the better land, leaving 3 daughters, Mrs. Ladwig of Bensenville, Mrs. Maluch and Mrs. Herman Hoffman of Itasca, and one son Frank, who lives on the old homestead.

BENSENVILLE — Mr. and Mrs. Henry Dierking celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary May 4.

Despite the cold weather, a good crowd assembled at the May Party given by Otto Dierking last Saturday. Miss Helen Kolze was voted as the most popular young lady, and received a handsome wreath of roses.

Hanover — Chris Reimer, Jr. says he is preparing his nest for a pretty little wingless bird which will soon chirp on a branch of his family tree. Say, Christhahn, who is she?

A jolly crowd of young pople celebrated Miss Lydia Heine's birthday. Sunday afternoon and night refreshments of all kinds were served by her brother Albert. Music was furnished by the well known Heine orchestra and all had a jolly good old time till 2 o'clock next morning.

ALL ABOARD boys for Mexico. Albert Heine and Will Meister have finished their airship and will soon start for warmer climes. But one thing, they are at a loss to know where to get their hot air for the balloon. Perhaps certain cjtizens of Hanover who have been shooting off hot air about some promient young men of Hanover will kindly help them out by getting together and shooting that hot air in the balloon.

With only the closest relatives present to celebrate the happy event, Elsie Meyn, third daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Meyn, and Edwin Busse, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Busse, were united in holy wedlock at St. Paul's church Saturday evening.

WHEELING — L. Beck is working for Triangle garage.

Mrs. Joe Bellmore and family have moved from Chicago into the Louis Miller home.

Otto Utpadel has his new delivery car all rigged up now so he can give his customers prompt delivery service.

The new village board met Monday. Saloons are to be closed hereafter from 9:30 to 11 a.m. Sundays.

Albert Utpadel has moved his cement block factory to his new farm opposite the Wm. Wille farm where he already has a stock of over 200 blocks.

Mt. Prospect — To show their patriotism and do their bit towards cutting H. C. L., H. Hammer and E. Gosch have set to work to reclaim waste lands in and near Mt. Prospect by tiling. It will fit them for trench digging. Prepare and be prepared.

He don't have to work. Mr. C. H. Valentine says he is a slacker and has a good notion to get married so he won't be drafted to go to war. Maidens, here is your opportunity to secure an indulgent young man with sufficient wealth to support a worthy wife in style, without either having to work. He would buy a fine automobile and let her drive it. Then they could take a pleasure trip to California and stay as long as they like.

MISS SELMA STAADE, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Staade and Edward Schoenbeck, second son of Mr. Henry Scheonbeck, were married by Rev. C. M. Noack May 6 at St. Peter's Lutheran church.

Sunday, May 6 was a beautiful afternoon for Amanda Jarnecke, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Jarnecke of Elk Grove, when she joined the holy bonds of wedlock with Mr. Henry Miller, of West Maine.

Are you going to the May Party in Schnells Maple Grove, Elk Grove?

Another wedding at St. Peter's Lutheran church was that of Miss Ellen Fiene and Mr. Herman Behn on May 5. May 6, Miss Clara Rascher of Palatine township and John Kastning of Plum Grove were also married there.

THE CHICAGO morning papers have raised their price to 2c a copy which takes effect Monday, May 14.

The Board of Education is considering the feasibility of opening a kindergarden in the public school. It appears that an extra teacher is a necessity to care for the increased attendance of next year and part of that teacher's time could be utilized for that work. The suggestion is being hailed with delight by many parents.

Mrs. Henry Studtman was laid to rest Sunday. She was born in Germany in 1856. In 1891 she was married to Mr. Studtmann. This union was blessed with two sons. Theodore and Ernst. In 1897 they accepted the position of managers of the Old Folks Home and discharged this arduous task with efficiency for ten years, but the work also proved the undoing of the deceased.

Mr. Friederick Meier, Sr., a resident of this vicinity all of his life died suddenly at his home in Arlington Heights Sunday. He was born in Elk Grove in 1861. He was a trustee and elder of the Elk Grove church until he left the farm and moved here. In 1885 he was united in marriage with Miss Augusta Gieseke.

Welcome Inn, historical old landmark at the corner of Milwaukee and Dempster, was destroyed by fire Monday evening. It had been built by John Beto, a pioneer settler, in 1874, in the days of toll gates and plank roads. The Beto family continued in business there 47 years until Beto's Corners became Welcome Inn.

FOR THE FIRST time in history, Palatine may not have a band upon Memorial day. The chance of rejuvinating the local band went a glimmering when the voters turned down the band tax. Arlington Heights has such a tax and that town expects to develop one of the best bands in this part of the county.

Do the people residing along Algonquin road want it to be paved? The county commissioners are willing to do their part, but the project, which is in reality of Chicago-Park Ridge-Des Plaines and rural project, requires concerted action on the part of all the districts to be benefited if any of that paving is to become a reality.

A wide open Arlington Heights with no limit on the number of taverns just so long as they can dig up the required license fee, no Sunday closing hours, and a lower license fee to help the poor tavern owner along.

That's a picture of the Arlington Heights of the future, if trustee Goedke has his way about it. At the special meeting of the Village board Tuesday night, Mr. Goedke requested that the tavern license be reduced from $350, that the limit on the number of taverns be removed and that the Sunday morning closing of the taverns be abolished.

Mr. Goedke, in explaining his startling proposals, maintained that the tavern keeper could not afford to pay so high a license and buy bonded whisky. Mr. Goedke maintained that if a tavern owner had to pay a high license, he would cheat on the quality of his goods.

MAYOR FLENTIE and the Arlington Heights village board officially recognized the fact Monday night that 1937 is centennial year for the Arlington Heights community.

The Fourth of July celebration which is being planned by the Palatine fire department will be far more than just an ordinary July 4th celebration. It will combine the features of an Independence day celebration with those of a golden anniversary; for early in July the Palatine fire department will be 50 years old.

Public Health Nurses Serve Northwest Suburbs

Preservation of family health — that's the motto of Cook county department of public health's nursing staff.

The public health nurse's position is a unique one.

She enters more homes than any other public health worker and is in a position to teach a healthful way of life which begins before birth and extends through the "golden years."

North Cook county, including northwest suburbs, is serviced from the north district office at 1062 Lee st., Des Plaines. The staff includes a supervisor and nurses specially trained in public health.

In order to observe firsthand the variety of activity among public health nurses in this area, Paddock Publications spent a morning with the nurses as they performed typical duties

For example, a nurse — Mrs. Wood — learned from a birth certificate that a young mother had just arrived from the hospital with a new baby. A home call was made to help the new mother follow doctor's orders. It was discovered that the mother felt insecure when bathing the baby—so a bath demonstration was given. The public health nurse left the mother feeling reassured in the knowledge she had a friend always ready to help her maintain her family's optimum health.

ANOTHER NURSE, Miss Blaine, visited a northwest suburbanite in the tuberculosis sanitorium at Hinsdale. The TB was discovered when he had received an annual checkup from the family physician. When the health department learned of this man's problem, Miss Blaine visited his home to help prepare him for sanitorium care and make sure all family contacts received chest x-rays or tuberculin tests. Periodically, such as this morning, the nurse visits him at the sanitorium to bring him news from home and work with the hospital staff in planning for eventual discharge. Having someone such as Miss Blaine act as liaison between home and hospital is important to this patient's peace of mind.

This morning was Mrs. Coburn's day to visit nursing homes in the north district. These visits are made regularly to make sure a high standard of nursing care is maintained. Supervision is given nursing home personnel and recommendations offered on methods to improve care, comfort, and contentment of patients.

Miss Ruehrdanz received a telephone call this morning from a private physician in her area. He had just learned that a 45-year-old man had diabetes and needed daily dosages of insulin. Miss Reuhrdanz visited the doctor's office and discussed the man's condition. Plans were made for the nurse to teach the daughter of the newly-discovered diabetic how to give injections. The nurse will visit the home regularly to make sure the man is following doctor's orders and that the insulin injections were properly administered. All public health nurses work closely with private physicians and local health officers.

THIS WAS Miss Koenig's day to demonstrate vision screening to the PTA health committee, which will examine vision of all school children. Later, the nurse will return to the school and recheck the vision of children suspected of defects. Parents will be contacted and recommendations made for a physician's examination. At the beginning of the school year, Miss Koenig met with school administrators and teachers to help plan for improved school health services and health education.

It's apparent from this "morning sampling" that public health nurses in northwest suburbs perform a broad range of services designed to provide a complete family health program, including communicable disease control, maternal and child health, adult health, nutrition, and health education.

These Pictures Seen In 24,000 Homes

DISCUSSING A PUBLIC HEALTH problem with Dr. W. G. Pagnudo, health officer for Mount Prospect, is nurse Gertrude Ruehrdanz of the county health department. Public health nurses frequently meet with private practitioners and health officials to consult on community and individual problems.

PUBLIC HEALTH NURSE Margaret Koenig demonstrates vision testing to 2 members of Orchard Place school PTA, Mrs. E. Bober and Mrs. L. Callaci of Des Plaines. This is one phase of the county health department's educational program in northwest suburbs.

CHILD CARE is one of various activities performed in north Cook county by public health nurses, who operate from the county health department's district office in Des Plaines. Mrs. Wilma Wood, public health nurse, gives a bathing demonstration to a new Rolling Meadows mother.

REGULAR VISITS to northwest suburban patients at the tuberculosis sanitorium, Hinsdale, are part of the cooperative program between the public health department and the sanitorium. Nurse Harriet Blaine, shown here with a patient from the north district, acts as a liaison between the sanitorium and the home to help solve any special problems which may arise.

Golf Classes, Harness Races, Red-Hot Bowling, All-State Track Keep Sportsmen Stepping Fast

GEORGE DAYIANTIS gives instruction in Paddock Publications free golf classes for the ladies which opened Tuesday evening at Arlington country club. The free sessions for all lady golfers will continue Tuesday nights through May, with no registration necessary. "Golf pro George" insists all the ladies need bring is a smile and a club, and that is what these hove. Mrs. J. E. Strom of Wheeling, Diane Dailey of Mt. Prospect, Mrs. G. L. Huckbody of Barrington, Mrs. R. F. Baric of Des Plaines, and Shirley Wooldridge of Mt. Prospect look on as George shows backswing to Mrs. C. Abrahamson of Wheeling.

Paddock Publications sports department is certainly eligible for a "busiest sports department in the weekly field" plaque, in case I was to be awarded.

First free golf class for the ladies at Arlington country club was held Tuesday night. It was the first of 4 sessions conducted by golf pro George Dayiantis at the club located on Dundee rd., route 68, between Arlington Heights rd., and rte. 83, north of Arlington.

The ladies need not registerf or the classes, which start at 7:30 p. m. the remaining Tuesday nights in May. In event of questionable weather ladies are urged to call the club house at Wheeling 167 for authentic word about classes. The classes are sponsored by the sports department of Paddock Publications.

THURSDAY NIGHT is Paddock Publications Night at Maywood Park. Sports department will present the award to the champ in 1 of the races May 9, with a large group of local sulky racing fans down there to watch the festivities.

Saturday afternoon the sports department's bowling representative, Al Walter, will meet with bowling house proprietors at Gunnell's to consider formation of a traveling league for next fall. Each house within the area served by Paddock Publications will probably enter its 5 best bowlers in the league if it becomes a reality.

PADDOCK PUBLICATIONS second all-state track team will soon be announced, with a board of representative track coaches of the area assisting the sports department in making the selections. Track sports writer Bill Beckman is directing this phase of promoting high school sports in the area.

Site of the annual Paddock Publications Inter-League Handicap golf tournament is expected to be announced shortly. The big meet, involving approximately 13 twilight leagues this year, is expected to be held the third Sunday in August.

SPRING SPORTS are moving along at a rapid pace at Arlington high school where 32 team events are scheduled for the 8-day period starting this Thursday, May 9, including Sunday. Included are 10 baseball games, 7 golf matches, 10 tennis matches and 5 track meets. We hope we survive attempting to cover all of this for local fans. Meanwhile, Heights athletic director Wally Grace has also been attending meetings the early part of this week lining up schedules for the next 3 years and working with other conference officials making changes in league rules, etc.

Principals and athletic directors of the WSC met in luncheon meeting at LaGrange country club Tuesday approving recommendations of the AD's made the day before.

Also on the agenda were final plans for the conference track meet to be held May 22 at Arlington, the league golf tourney at Downers Grove and the tennis tournament with preliminaries at Hinsdale and LaGrange, with finals at Arlington the same day as the track meet.

CHICAGO RACING FANS will be treated to the first "all-weather" clubhouse and grandstand interiors in America on May 13 when Washington Park opens its gates for the 30-day Balmoral spring meeting. All interiors of the stands, stretching for nearly a quarter-mile, have been completely glass-enclosed for the 1957 season, with new installations added to provide full air-conditioning in warm weather and heat when the weather turns cool.

The new air-conditioning-heating system at Washington Park now offers a haven of comfort for the fans from any type of weather, whether it be cold or heat, during the Balmoral spring session. It also will produce cool temperatures for any heat wave during Washington Park's own racing season later in the summer.

Last year, only the clubhouse interior was glass-enclosed, air-conditioned and heated, with the grandstand receiving only heat in cool weather. The 1956 installation in the clubhouse received such strong public acclaim that the same facilities and comforts were added this year for the grandstand patrons. In addition, the grandstand interiors have been newly-decorated and newly-lighted, with new asphalt tile floors on the upper two levels, and with new photo-color murals of famous thoroughbred horses and jockeys.

Cards Booster Club Begins Member Drive

New membership drive for Cardinals Booster club has begun with club officers hoping full support from the 60,000 persons residing within the area served by Arlington and Prospect high schools.

Objectives for the coming year are:

Oranges for all athletic contests for all participants.

Buses for all students to away-from-home games, basketball and football (depending on interest), with expenses at only 25c. Boosters pick up the balance of the bill.

To furnish films for all frosh-soph football games and all frosh-soph and varsity basketball games to help develop better teams.

Three sports banquets — May, November, and March—at conclusion of each sport season, free to all team members.

Room captains for every home room in the high school and every eighth grade in the district have been selected to assist the Boosters in this drive.

Parents with children who are in high school, or who soon will be, are urged to join the Booster club for only $1 per person, or $2 per family. Membership fees can be mailed to Mrs. Betty Barbour, 751 S. Bristol, Arlington Heights.

Maine, St. Charles To Push Cards for District Title

Arlington, Maine and St. Charles are top favorites in Friday's district track meet at Old Orchard country club with the Cardinals serving as hosts.

Twelve schools and almost 70 individuals are expected to compete for honors, which include going on to the state finals performing on its home course, though both Maine and St. Charles could give Coach Curtis Larsen's charges trouble.

EMIL ESPOSITO, Leyden's pride and joy golfer, will be that school's only entrant for individual honors. He is hearily favored to take low individual medal with a record of taking golf honors by the dozen the past couple of years.

Heights boys who will participate in the district tourney include Ed Moehling, Tom Jacobsen, Rick Lindstrom, John Murry ,Bob Clancy, Dave Ebert, Bob Hammerl, Jim Goodling, Al Kruse and Bob Sbarbaro. Schools entered as of Tuesday morning include St. Mary's of Woodstock, Elgin, Palatine, Barrington, Leyden, Elmwood Park, St. Charles, McHenry, Maine, St. Edward of Elgin and Lake Park. Ela-Vernon and Crystal Lake may still be entered later this week.

Cool Waters

The average temperature of the oceans is 39 degrees Fahrenheit.

THE PITCHING STAFF for Arlington Cardinals is seeing a lot of action, with the locals dropping 2 contests this past week. Coach Howard Lester has these 6 moundsmen, which should be a big help in the approaching district tournament, starting with Glenbrook Monday. The Cardinals meet LaGrange in a league affair Friday.

Waiting for district action to start are Pat Brownell, John Oberg, Wayne Knight, Denny Thill, Bob Miller, Don Gerken and Dave Soenksen. Brownell and Miller are the only seniors with Gerken and Soenksen sophomores. Oberg and Miller are lefties.

Card 9 Blasts Downers, 13-2

Bob Miller hurled 3 hit ball as Arlington blasted Downers Grove 13-2 at Downers Tuesday. It was the first loss in 6 conference starts for the Trojans.

The Cards scored 4 times in the fourth and 6 times in the fifth to wrap up the victory. Al Hutchinson and Larry Webber each contributed 2 hits to the team total of 8.

Miller fanned 10 Trojans and walked only 1 in the 7-inning contest. It was his third WSC win against no losses.

DOWNERS PITCHERS Jerry Ukrin and George Avgeris walked 8 and hit 1 to add to the losers' troubles. Their teammates committed 6 errors, all of which spelled disaster for the league-leaders.

After 2 scoreless innings Dennis Thill singled, went to second on an error, and scored on Al Hutchinson's hit. A walk to Ralph Wille and singles by Pat Brownell, Larry Webber, Jerry Klement, and Al Hutchinson scored 4 more runs in the 4th. Hutchinson's drive brought home his second and third RBI of the day.

FOUR WALKS, a single by Webber, and a base-clearing triple by Dan Vittum added 6 runs in the fifth. Arlington finished the scoring with 2 unearned runs in the 7th.

Ken Lutgens collected 2 of Downers' 3 hits with a double and a single. His double scored teammate Avgeris in the bottom of the 4th. A 7th inning tally by the losers was earned.

Arlington now possesses a 4-3 record in conference play. (Sp

3rd Session of Ump's Meeting

The third session of the umpire's training series will be held at the Arlington Heights field house next Tuesday, May 14. The subject will be "Rules and Regulations."

This session will cover problems and interpretations pertaining to special play situations. Also, rules on the following subjects will be specifically reviewed: live ball - dead ball - infield fly rule - interference - obstruction - appeal plays - two runners on same base - plus special instructions on pitching rules including explanation of balk and illegal pitch by Joe Brodnan, official association umpire. Card Golfers Lose Downers After 2 Other Victories

Arlington's varsity golfers won 2 of 3 varsity matches this past week, prior to Tuesday, losing a crucial 10-5 encounter to Downers Grove Monday at Woodridge country club. Victories were 8-7 over Glenbrook and 13½-11½ over Glenbard. Both of these wins were tallied at Old orchard.

The frosh-sophs, coached by Rusty Dowell, rolled over all opposition, dispatching Glenbard 9-0 May 2, disposin gof Glenbrook 11½-3½ May 3 and drubbing Downers Grove Monday 8½-. In addition, the Cards junior-varsity team, organized overnight, edged Downers Grove 8-6½.

MAC SAYS

by G. A. McELROY

THIS COMING WEEKEND the state district track meets will be held to determine the boys who compete in the state meet at Champaign the following Friday and Saturday. There are 2 ways to get into the state meet. One is to take first or second in an event in the district and the other is to equal certain qualifying arks set by the state association. This qualifying by marks is a concession to areas like the Chicago suburbs where there are so many good boys in every event.

Qualifying marks get tougher every year as they are based on the marks made in recent years by boys who go to the state meet. Here is the list: 100 yard dash—:10.3; 220 yard dash—(straightaway) :22.8 & (around a curve) :23.0; 440 yard dash—:52; 880 yard run—2:03; mile run—4:40; 880 relay—1:33; mile relay—3:35; 120 yard high hurdles—:15.5; 180 yard low hurdles—(straightaway) :20.6 and (around a curve) :20.9; shot put—49'; Discus—140'; pole vault—11' 8"; high jump—5' 10"; and broad jump—21'.

Last week we mentioned that Bloom and York are teams to watch in the state 880 yard relay. Last Saturday at Mooseheart Coach Stebens added Fred Macklin to his 880 relay team and they ran the event in the exceptional time of 1:32.2, best in the state to date. That same day Mike Pyle of New Trier stamped himself as one of the best discus throwers in the nation with a throw of 172' 1½". Macklin was and inch short of his Palatine record in the broad jump at Mooseheart, leaping 22' 1".

NEXT YEAR the wrestling procedure leading to the state meet will be changed. The situation which caused sectional tournaments to run past midnight due to the number of competitors was mentioned in this column last March and there were complaints from many sources. The state office has decided to set up 14 district tournaments outside Chicago with the first 4 place winners in each class advancing to the 7 sectional tournaments, which have been held in the past as the only elimination tournaments.

The first and second place winners in the sectionals then advance to the state tournament along with the first and second in each class from Chicago. This means that the state series will cover a 3 week period but it will solve a lot of problems.

Palatine is the only school in the Northwest conference which has played all their scheduled baseball games to date. The Pirates as of last weekend had a 6-2 record with 6 games remaining and both defeats suffered at the hands of Glenbrook. Coach Watt's Glenbrook Spartans, with a 4-0 record and tough Palatine out of the way, should have easy sailing. However, they have 4 rained out games to play and so far there is no proof the Spartans have more than Gordon Lind capable of pitching victories in the conference. Grant, Antioch, Grayslake, and Fenton are no setups and any of them could knock off the Glenbrook nine. While we think Glenbrook will finish on top it is going to be tougher to do than the conference standings would indicate.

IN THE LAST YEAR of competition in the Northwest conference, as presently organized, Grant high of Fox Lake is sponsor of 3 of the special league events. They handled the music festival Monday, April 29, held the frosh-soph track meet Wednesday night, and on Wednesday, May 22, will be hosts to the varsity track meet. Palatine was expected to walk away with both these meets. Monday, May 20, the league golf tournament will be held at Mohawk golf club in Bensenville with Fenton as the sponsor.

Glenbrook is a heavy favorite to repeat last year's golf victory as they have 4 of their team of 5 returning including the conference champ, Dick Youngberg, and the runner up.

The week of May 20-24 with golf, track, and the final baseball games on the schedule will bring to a close the membership of Palatine, Glenbrook, and Fenton in the Northwest conference. Palatine was a charter member of the league when it was formed in October, 1925. Others now in the conference who were charter members were Antioch and Wauconda. Libertyville, Warren, Arlington Heights and Barrington were other original members. Warren will return to the league they helped start. With them will be the new school of Round Lake and Lake Forest.

In the new Northwest conference it looks like Lake Forest will win football next fall, Antioch or Warren take basketball, Wauconda win wrestling, Lake Forest cop track without half trying, and either Antioch or Grayslake win the baseball championship.

10 YEARS AGO—May 9, 1947: Charles Hussey of Niles and Maurice Kruzan of Antioch are admiring trophies in the display cases of their schools won at the Palatine relays last week. Dan Jones of Antioch was the star of the meet. Jones vaulted 11' 6" and high jumped 5' 9¼" to win both events and ran on 3 relay teams which finished first, second and third . . . Niles leads the 5 team Northwest conference baseball league with a 5-0 record while Arlington has 4-1: In the Northwest at this late date in the season Bensenville has played just 2 league games and won them both . . . Gordon Busse of Arlington Heights broad jumped 20' 11½" as the Arlington Heights frosh-soph track team buried Palatine 77 2/3 to 26 1/3 . . . Arlington beat Leyden 8-1 and Woodstock 15-4 in baseball with Bill Robinson pitching . . . In a triangular meet it was Antioch 66 1/3, Palatine 42 and Grant 32½ as Dan Jones scored 16¼ points.

20 YEARS AGO—May 7, 1937: Arlington won a triangular track meet with their neighboring rivals scoring 77 points to 59 1/6 for Palatine and 25 5/6 for Barrington. Palatine got 7 first places with Kuhn and Koch scoring 11 points apiece and John O'Brien getting 10 5/6. Arlington's star hurdler, Richards did not compete due to the Urbana Relays where he was slated to compete. All baseball games for the week were rained out.

Redwings Lose To Skokie, 14-4

Skokie's Indians pounded Arlington Redwings semipro baseball team to a 14-4 loss at Recreation park Sunday in Heights. This Sunday the Redwings will attempt to find more strength in their lineup in another practice game against Kolski Boosters.

Skokie tallied 3 unearned runs the first inning, started by a bad relay of a double play ball by Lloyd Meyer, and a misjudged fly ball by Eric Nelson. Twirler Dick Bokelmann attempted to pull his team out of the hole, but it took a lot out of him and he asked to be relieved between innings after the fifth. Dick Otto replaced him in the sixth.

BRIGHT SPOTS for Arlington were Tony Esposito's homer with 1 man on in the fourth, and a homer by Joe Jankers of Bensenville for Mgr. Bud Blumenthal.

The Redwings and Kolski Boosters will play 2 7-inning practice games. Arlington needs plenty of work in 4 or 5 spots, with the locals needing more strength at short, first base, catcher and in the outfield.

Chicago members of the team practiced at Portage Park Tuesday evening, plan another session at Skokie Thursday, and will join with the Arlington half of the team for a hard workout Saturday. Bokelmann will be on a business trip the next couple of Sundays so other pitchers for the team will be given their chance.

Kolskis whipped Oak Park 9-1 and Chicago Vets mauled Moran Supply 18-5 in other games Sun-

Cards Set Record, Tie Another, New High in Points

Arlington, accounting for the only new meet record, scored 102 points to win the seventh annual Hinsdale high school relays. It marked the first time in the history of the meet that a team had scored 100 or more points.

The record was set in the high jump by the Arlington team of Robert Lockwood, Stan Norman, Bill Palmer, and Ed Whitelaw. The total height was 22 feet 10 inches. Arlington also tied the meet record of 1:04.7 in the 480 yard high hurdle shuttle relay.

Lane Patterson of Glenbard won the 100 yard dash, only individual event of the meet, and ran on the winning 440 relay, mile medley relay, and 880 yard relay teams.

THAT HIGH JUMP record was made with Bill Palmer jumping 6', Stan Norman 5'10", Bob Lockwood 5'8" and Ed Whitelaw 5'4".

Once again Arlington won the discus with Carl Klehm tossing the platter 137'3", Jim Hoffman 133', Jack Weber 130'8" and Ray Horcher 130'6".

The Cardinals also took the shot, with Carl Klehm hitting 48'9", and Dean Schneck 41'8".

THE POLE VAULT went to East Aurora with Heights finishing fourth. Marty Green and Willard McDowell both vaulted 10', Fred Hedemark hit 9'6", and Dave Selman went 9' for Arlington.

Tying the record for the high hurdle shuttle relay at 1:04.7 were Bill Palmer :15.6, Ed Whitelaw :15.9, Bob Lockwood :16.3 and Jack Weber :16.5. It was a new school mark for that event.

The locals took third in the 2-mile relay with Ron Marks running 2:09, Jim Hoffman 2:13, Ken Courter 2:14.1 and Bob Taggart 2:15.2.

THE CARDINALS finished second din the varsity 440 relay with a :45.6, good enough for a new school mark. Local times were Stan Norman :10.8, Jack Weber :11.1, Bob Mors :11.4 and Bob Lockwood :12.7.

Broad jump foursome of Arlington finished second with both Stan Norman and Bob Lockwood leaping 21'1", Bruce Fichte covering 18'1" and Mike Dundy hitting 17'8".

Arlington won the low hurdle shuttle relay in 1:07.4 with Jack Weber and Bob Lockwood running :16.5, Bob O'Neil :17 and Ed Whitelaw :17.4.

Locals also took the frosh-soph relay in 1:40.6 with Tony Stavros hitting :24.5, Jim Conroy :24.9, Chuck Yaeger :25.5 and Rich Yaeger :25.8. (Sp

Card Soph 9 Whips R-B, York, Hinsdale

Arlingon's frosh-soph baseball squad added 3 victories in last week's play. "Bus" Ormsbee's boys whipped Riverside-Brookfield 11-7, edged York 9-8, and outslugged Hinsdale 7-5.

Riverside-Brookfield's 8 errors, including 5 by the catcher, helped Arlington take the game. The young birds sent 13 batters to the plate in the sixth inning, tallying 9 runs.

George Bork and Bob Voigt each had 2 safeties to lead the 9 hit attack. Jim Meehan and Dan Raupp shared the pitching duties for Arlington.

SIX RUNS in the sixth inning gave the locals a 9-8 win over York on the Arlington diamond. Three hits, including Al Sander's triple, added to the scoring attack. Both teams committed 6 errors in the fracas.

Dan Raupp and Dave Zimmerman saw mound action in the game with Zimmerman getting the victory. Arlington outhit York 6-5.

ARLINGTON had to go an extra ining before setting down the York Dukes 7-5. John Benrud lived on an error, Mike Warnecki singled, and Bob Leekley doubled them home with what proved to be the winning tallies in the eighth inning.

Jim Meehan and Dave Zimmerman pitched for the locals with Zimmerman getting credit for tte win. wthe victory stationed the frosh-soph record at 3 wins and 1 loss going into Tuesday's game with Downers Grove. (Sp

Arlington Trackmen to Run In District Track Meet

Arlington's varsity track squad will compete in the district track meet at Evanston Saturday morning with winners or qualifiers able to meet certain state standards eligible to go downstate the following weekend.

Four Heights lads have already met those standards, so barring unforeseen circumstances coaches Attis, Beckman and Scott could have several boys going on to further honors downstate.

IN SPITE of the Cardinals walking off with team honors in the Hinsdale Relays last Saturday, competition will be much tougher and of a different variety at Evanston. Arlington's power last week was in numbers in the field events. This time, only 1 or 2 local boys will be competing in those events.

It's hard to tell just which squad will be favored in the district, though New Trier or Maine will certainly be among the top teams. But for individual honors, here are the performances which will send boys downstate:

100	:10.3	Shot	49'
440	:52	HJ	5'10"
880	2:03	BJ	21'
Mile	4:40	PV	11' 8"
HH	:15.5	880 Relay	1:33
LH	:20.6	Mile Relay	3:35

THE ENTRIES for Arlington weren't complete as of Tuesday morning, but here is the way they stood in most cases. Those names with asterisks following the names indicate those boys have already bettered state finals qualifying marks in their events.

Bob Mors in the 440, has been .2 of a second off the pace.

Bob Barbour is listed in the 880, is 5 seconds slow.

Ken Courter and Ron Marks in the mile. Both of these youngsters have covered the route in 4:46, need to shorten their strides 6 seconds.

BOB LOCKWOOD* has beaten state standards marks in both high and low hurdles.

In the shot are Carl Klehm* and Jack Weber*, with Klehm* and Jim Hoffman listed in the discus.

Arlington high jump twins Stan Norman* and Bill Palmer* are both entered, with Norman* also named for the broad jump. (Sp

Win 2 of 3 with Bards

Arlington's prolific track team lost a varsity test to Glenbard Tuesday 61-57, but ran off with soph honors 90-22 while the freshmen were winning 58½-50½.

The Cardinals, lacking enough power to win the West Suburban conference varsity crown in the league meet 2 weeks hence, but with a great number of freshmen and sophomores with plenty of hustle, some of them with the varsity at times, the Cardinals continued to show power at frosh-soph level.

First place winners for Arlington in the varsity meet were Bill Palmer in high jump at 6'2" and high hurdles at :15.9, Carl Klehm in shot put at 54'3" and discus at 143'8", Bob Lockwood in broad jump at 20'2½" and low hurdles in :20.9, Bob Mors also helped the Arlington cause with a tie in the 440 at :51.4.

SOPH WINNERS for co-coaches Attis, Scott and Beckman were Ed Whitelaw in high hurdles in :16.7, in low hurdles in :22.5, and in high jump at 5'2"; Chuck Yaeger the 100 in :10.9 and 220 in :23.7; Bob Barbour the 880 in 2:11.4, Bob Taggart the mile in 5:05.3, Den Striegel the shot at 40'7½", Dave Buren the discus at 113'4½" and Willard McDowell the broad jump at 17'2¼".

For the freshmen Arlington winners were Mike Dundy in the 100 in :11.6 and broad jump at 18', Tony Stavros the high jump at 5', Bob Hall the 880 in 2:19.6, Bill Terbell the mile in 5:18.6, and Ralph Roller the shot at 32'7½".

Card Frosh Lose To Bards

Glenbard's freshman baseballers found Arlington to their liking Tuesday afternoon, disposing of Coach Frank Bohac's boys in 6-0 fashion. A 5-run first inning blast gave the Bards a lead they never relinquished. The game was fairly even after that time.

Two hits and 6 walks gave the visitors their 5 runs with Ken Dougan starting on the mound. He was relieved in the first by Fred Peterson. Heights yearlings were powerless against Mayer and Villak of Glenbard, garnering only 1 hit, a single by Dempster Leech in the fifth.

NOTRE DAME and Arlington freshmen debated a 2-2 tie Friday on the Dempster street school diamond, with cold weather and approaching darkness stopping the issue. Meanwhile 10 innings went by.

Arlington scored a run in the third inning on a walk and a hit. Notre Dame tied things in the seventh on a hit. Locals took the lead in the eighth on singles by John Beckman and Fred Lips. Walks to John Lind and Phil Gustafson kept things going but to no avail.

Notre Dame scored again in the eighth to tie things, with the game called the end of the tenth.

Arlington Varsity 9 Tops R-B, Loses York, Hinsdale

Arlington's varsity baseballers whipped Riverside-Brookfield 9-5 but lost 7-3 decisions to York and Hinsdale in last week's WSC action.

The win over R-B was the second of the campaign since the locals had taken a 3-1 victory at Brookfield earlier this spring. The hitting of Dennis Thill, Ed Meinken, and Pat Brownell featured the battle. The trio had 7 of Arlington's 9 hits, with Meinken collecting 3, a double and 2 singles.

Bob Miller started but had arm trouble. He had relief from John Oberg in the 7th inning. Miller got credit for the victory, his second.

YORK'S right-hander Tom Madison shut the gate on the Arlington scoring attack at Elmhurst last Friday. Madison limited the Cards to only 3 hits in setting them down 7-3.

Two of Arlington's hits came in the third inning when the birds scored their 3 runs. A single by Dave Soenksen, an error and John Anderson's 2 run single broke the ice for Coach Howie Lester's crew. Anderson went to third on an error and scored on Vittum's sacrifice fly.

JOHN OBERG made the start for Arlington but was replaced by Soenksen in the 2nd. Soenksen allowed only 2 hits and 1 run in 4 and one third innings.

York tallied 6 times in the first 2 innings as they put together 8 hits and a walk. The victory kept the Dukes in the title fight.

HINSDALE rapped Dennis Thill for 9 hits and 7 runs at Arlington Monday afternoon. Meanwhile Arlington suffered another drought, getting only 4 hits off the side-arm offerings of John Brown.

Dan Vittum scored Arlington's first run on a past ball in the second inning. Larry Webber's single, an error, and two walks forced in a run in the third. E. Meinken singled home the final marker in the 7th, singling behind Webber and Brownell, who had walked.

The loss to Hinsdale set Arlington's record at 3-3 for the year.

Law and Moudry A beat Johnston and Draclove G 7-5, 6-3.

Prep Track Honor Roll Marks Soar

by BILL BECKMAN

The past week found the states top track men turning in performances that should rate positions on the National Honor Roll. Mike Pyle of New Trier hurled the discus 172' 1½" over at the Mooseheart relays. Bill Brown of Mendota continues to demonstrate his strength by throwing the shot put the remarkable distance of 58' 7¾", this mark could also rate a place on the National Honor Roll. The weights continue to deminate the picture as we now have 6 shot putters that have thrown over 54 feet.

Fred Macklin of Bloom dropped the 440 yard best time down to 49.9 in a triangular meet with Thornton Fractional and Rich last week. His team mate John Llorca ran a fine :51.3. From these times it is easy to see why Bloom has one of the best mile relay teams in the state. Bob Mors of Arlington and Dave Obrecht of Glenbard finished in a dead heat in a dual meet in the time of :51.4. This weekend one of the best quarter mile fields in the state will be at the Evanston district when Mors, Arlington, Moulding and Strub, New Trier, Strafford, Evanston and Eldridge of Palatine tangle. This easily could produce a better time than Macklin's :49.9.

WEST ROCKFORD'S Marshall Starks took the broad jump lead when he stretched out 22' 8 5/8" in the Rockford relays the past week. There are at least 15 boys in the state that have bettered 21 feet.

The hurdles remain pretty much the same however, West Rockford seems to have found a replacement for Dave Northrup who is now ineligible because of his age, the replacement is Jim Davis who ran the highs in :14.8 and the lows in :20.7.

Last year one of the finest fields in the states history were represented in the half mile. This year the best time in this event is the 2:01 turned in by Oregon's Dick Miller. Only three boys have run under 2:02 this season. The milers are just hitting their stride now as Brian White of East Rockford is reported to have run a 4:23.3, we are waiting for confirmation of this time however. Frank Ballinger, Mooseheart, Leo Quirk, Champaign, and Tom Arnold, St. Charles all have fine times under 4:35.0.

BILL PALMER of Arlington continues with the best high jump mark of 6' 2½". Palmer has had 3 jumps within a weeks time of 6' 2" or better not under the best jumping conditions. LeCrone, Springfield and Thurman of Bloom each recorded 6' 2" or better the past week.

The sprints remained the same as last week with the exception of Darnell of Danville and Prather of Urbana who both hit :10.0.

The relays are dominated by Bloom. However in the Mooseheart relays New Trier of the Suburban league beat the Trojans in the mile relay. It looks like Coach John Nay of the Indians might pull a surprise or two come state meet time.

BOB MORS bettered the school record when he ran a :51.4 last Tuesday against Glenbard. This beat his neighbor Vance Folkman's 1939 record of :52 flat.

Carl Klehm became the third shot putter in Arlington's history to better the 54 foot mark, as he heaved the iron ball 54' 3" against Glenbard.

Jim Hoffman continues to improve as he threw the discus 142' 11".

Stan Norman and Bob Lockwood broad jumped 21' 1" over at the Hinsdale relays last week end. Stan high jumped 5' 11½" and Bob jumped 5' 8" at the same meet.

Kenny Courter and Ron Marks continue to show that they are probably the states 2 best sophomore milers as they run under the 4:50 mark.

Roy Hahnfeld of Palatine turned in a time of 2:06.2 in the half mile against Leyden.

Jim Eldridge ran the quarter in :53.1 and Ken Borg the high hurdles in :16.0 and the lows in :21.1.

3 Teams Tie Old Orchard Scratch League Golf Play

Three teams are tied for the lead in Old Orchard Scratch league. Although the weather was on the frigid side a splendid turnout prevailed on opening night. Dan Musser enjoyed the cold weather with his hot putter, sinking several putts. He was able to tour the front 9 in 2 over par for a low of the night 37.

Len Arnold came through with a fashionable 38, Woody Haake was low on the back 9 with a 40. The officers and members of the scratch league would like to take this opportunity for thanking all of the sponsors for their enthusiasm in sponsoring the teams in the league this year and hope they will find the time to come out and scout their respective teams.

These are the tires that were proved safe at the Indianapolis 500-mile speedway at speeds faster than you'll EVER drive Speed Safety — Race tire construction provides extra 15 m.p.h. safety margin.

Heat Safety — Withstands up to 40° higher road temperature than ordinary tires.

Joan Winterbauer Marries Jay Lipe

—Community Camera

Now residing at 2207 N. Ridge in Evanston after a 10-day honeymoon in Bermuda, are Mr. and Mrs. Jay Anthony Lipe who were married April 27 in a 3:30 o'clock ceremony in Evanston. The bride is the former Joan Louise Winterbauer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry T. Winterbauer, 550 Banbury rd., Arlington Heights. Mr. Lipe is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Birnie Ross of Rockford.

For her marriage the bride wore a gown of white taffeta with alencon lace trim which was dotted with motifs of irridescent sequins and pearls. The skirt of the gown was full and made with a back bustle and chapel train. Her veil was 3-tier fingertip and was held by a crown of pearls and irridescent sequins. She was given in marriage by her father. White gardenias and gladioli with rhododendron leaves made u h e r bridal bouquet.

Matron of honor was Mrs. David C. O'Neill of Cincinnati, who wore a gown of pale pink chiffon over pale pink satin with insets of satin at the neck and waistline. She wore matching shoes and a headpiece of rosebuds and ivy. She carried a wicker parasol basket with pink gladioli and ivy.

Miss Carol Thorsen of Evanston, Miss Nancy Lipe, sister of the gridegroom from Pittsburgh, Miss Virginia Wallrich of Evanston and Miss Kathryn Griffith of Chicago were bridesmaids. All wore coral gowns fashioned identically to the matron of honor's gown.

The bride's mother was in an ivory lace sheath dress over pale pink taffeta with a corsage o f pink rosebuds. The bridegroom's mother wore a beige chiffon dress with green orchid corsage.

Best man was A. Jan Nordell of Evanston and ushers were Dennis Clark of McHenry, Dean Olds of Evanston and Dick Winterbauer of Arlington Heights and Stuart Hyer of Rockford.

A reception and dinner for 275 guests was held at Chevy Chase in Wheeling.

The bride was graduated from Arlington high school and Northwestern university while t h e bridegroom was graduated from the University of Chicago with an A.B. degree and frome the Unidegree. He is now associated with degree. He is now associated wit the legal firm of Stevenson, Conaghan, Velde and Hackbert i n Chicago.

Mama Becomes a Girl Scout

Dear Peg:

Mama is going to be a Girl Scout! That is, I hope Ma. a is going to be a Girl Scout—I'm not a bit sure I can learn all there is to learn or do all that is required in the 6 day course for Girl Scout leaders-to-be.

However, in good Girl Scout tradition, I shall "Be Prepared" for anything and try to prove myself Girl Scout leader material for the sake of our grade school generally, and for Megan specifically.

This is how it all happened.

I was in the midst of leisurely making beds and cleaning up a little one morning—just going along minding my own business—when the phone rang. To me, a phone that rings on Monday mornings should have its wires cut—it's never cheerful news, seldom an invitation to a party, but almost always a plea for your services as block collector, cafeteria helper or the committee head which they desperately need and which no on will accept and which they should have called you about on Friday but didn't want to spoil your weekend, so waited until Monday morning.

This morning was no exception.

Vivian's tale of woe would have touched the heart of any mother whose little girl was to be a third grader in a third grade that would have no Brownie Scout troop unless several mothers agreed to take the training course and be Brownie Scout leaders. So far, Vivian had been successful in signing only herself up. What could I do? Deprive my eldest daughter of the experience and privilege of Girl Scouting merely because I was too lazy to devote 5 hrs. a day, for 6 days, to the training course and then, in the fall, about 3 hours a week to Brownie troop leading?

Unable, as usual, to say, "No Vivian," I said, "Yes, Vivian." And so on Thursday began the 6 not-so-easy-lessons for potential leaders of little girls.

Mrs. Chutkow, the attractive, charming and soft-spoken director of the training program began the class promptly at 9:30 a. m. and let me tell you it kept going full steam ahead until the lunch break at 11:45! Every minute was utilized and no one dared to say something to her neighbor for fear of missing some point being made. Even during lunch (we brought our own and were served coffee), we learned several songs and discussed some points. The schedule was just as tight for the afternoon session. From 1 to 2:30 not a minute was lost.

The most interesting feature about our first day of training was that 42 women who walked in that morning, strangers to each other, became a friendly, cooperative "Girl Scout troop" by the end of the day.

Our "ice-breaking game," in which we interviewed the lady sitting next to us, then stood in turn and told the group what we'd learned; our being divided into groups and asked to prepare a skit having to do with Brownies or little girls that age; our discussion period on what we as leaders expected of a Brownie troop and our dividing up into "patrols," selecting representatives to the "court of honor" and voting on questions such as coffee dues, etc. were all designed to give us a real, practical and speedy send off into the scouting program. Until the next session,

My love,
Beginning-Scout-leader Patty.

YMCA Helps Ladies 'Get in Condition'

The YMCA women's conditioning class held at Algonquin school, Des Plaines, Tuesday evenings, continues to c r e a t e many laughs, solid muscles, fleeting pounds, and, yes, a few aches.

The class is led by Viola Brehiem, a former YWCA physical director who led the Y's first "Lose Weight the Y's Way" class in the fight to lose t h e grand total of 95 pounds t h i s winter.

The conditioning class, which starts at 8 p.m. begins with a half hour of exercises in which the ladies may or may not participate. The next hour is devoted to volleyball and o t h e r games. The class is not designed exclusively for ladies wanting to lose pounds as is obvious when one notices some of the trim young figures pushing that ball over the net. The class will continue until June.

Pfaugh on Those Short Cut Routes

by MARY

I know a family of plan changers. They don't earn their living this way. It is purely an avocation. But, they sure beat i t to death.

Here is a fr'instance. I s a y, "I guess I will drive into the big city today." Then they say, "Which way are you going to go?" Then I say, "I guess I will take the car as the motor scooter is on the blink." Then they say, "No, no which route, we mean."

FORTUNATELY OR unfortunately, I know only 1 route and if I get off it, I'm a dead duck. And, a lost one. The plan changers always have a short cut. This short cut requires going d o w n back streets where one m u s t watch for such milestones as a grubby little store on the corner that has lampshades in the window.

Looking for a couple of lampshades while driving in this day and age would test the ingenuity of Barney Oldfield. At t h e lampshades, I am to turn right until I come to a drug store that has a sign in the window proclaiming Bufferin at 59 cents for the giant economy size for large headaches. This is right across the street from a movie house which says that they are better than ever.

THEN I AM to turn left. This puts me on a street heavily patronized by very large trucks going in all directions at once. It is also paved with cobblestones overlaid with old pieces of Mt. Vesuvius left over from the eruption. My next landmark is to be a factory that is made of r e d brick. As all factories appear to be made of red brick, this gives my task a certain fillip and causes me to make quite a few side trips into dead end streets.

You know the purpose of this shortcut that takes me about an extra hour to navigate? I w i l l miss 2 stop streets and 3 stop lights. Isn't that wonderful? And, I'll be in Scotland before you. But, not in the big city.

If I were a crow, I could go as the crow flies. I am not a crow, just a puzzled old bat.

Garden Group Tours Arboretum May 23rd

A tour of Morton Arboretum has been planned by Arlington Heights Womans club garden study group for Thursday, May 23. The tour will be followed by luncheon at Karen's Swedish tea room in Geneva.

The group will meet at t h e railroad station at 9 a.m. and anyone needing transportation to the station may call Mrs. Frank Precilio, CLearbrook 3-5847, o r Mrs. Walter Rae, Palatine 1973.

Community Concert Association Marks 10th Anniversary

Since this year marks the 10th anniversary of Arlington Heights Community Concert association, members of the group have made special plans for the 1957 kick-off dinner. The entire evening will be around a birthday theme and has been planned by the dinner committee, Mrs. Robert Meyers, Mrs Gilbert Krohn, and Mrs. H. L. Berthold Jr., chairman.

Gale Blocki Jr., association president, and Mrs. Thomas O. Griseli, general chairman, will have prominent parts in the program which follows the dinner at Faith Lutheran church May 13.

Membership drive workers invited to the dinner will also hear the New York representative of Community Concert, Inc., Russell Rokahr, who will talk on Columbia artists from whom talent is drawn for local performances. (S

Notre Dame Fathers Club To Sponsor Annual Spring Dance

Notre Dame Father's club of the Notre Dame High School for boys, Niles, will present its second annual spring dance in the school auditorium Saturday, May 25.

The Norm Krone orchestra, featured at the Palmer House and Conrad Hilton hotels, will again play music for dancing from 8:30 to 11:30 p.m.

Refreshments will be served and tickets can be obtained by calling the high school. Gifts presented during the evening will include a 3-piece set of rattan furniture, a deep fry well and a soft drink coller. (S

Heights Juniors Give Scholarship

A Palatine teacher of the mentally handicapped but educable children owes her training to a scholarship provided for her by the Junior Women's Clubs of Illinois. To help educate more of these teachers, some of whom may return to this community to aid local children, the Junior Womans Club of Arlington Heights has made a contribution of $400 to the scholarship fund for special teachers of exceptional children to be used at Illinois State Normal University, Normal. This is a full scholarship for one teacher.

Dorothy Hafstrom, the Palatine teacher, has at present, 11 pupils, from 6 to 16 years old, taking part in both an academic and cultural curriculum. She has also been working on a statewide committee which is writing a curriculum guide for the mentally retarded.

EIGHTEEN OTHER special scholarship winners now work with children who are deaf or hard of hearing, partially sighted or blind, physically handicapped, defective in speech or maladjusted. One other teacher is in Palatine, and one is teaching the preschool deaf children in Elgin.

This year, which is the fifth that these scholarships have been the state project for the Junior Women's clubs, a total contribution of $9,213 has been givn, the largest annual donation yet made. This is in addition to the $16,994 previously donated, according to Mrs. O. C. Beattie, 311 Carlyle, Arlington Heights, state junior project chairman. (S

Kappa Luncheon

Northwest Alumnae association of Kappa Kappa Gamma will hold its annual May luncheon at 1 p.m. Tuesday, May 14, at the Country Squire near Grayslake.

Barbara Emrick Weds in Turkey

Word has been received from Istanbul, Turkey, of the marriage of Miss Barbara Emrick, formerly of Arlington Heights, and Noel James Silk of Britain. The couple's marriage took place March 23 in a Turkish ceremony and was followed by another ceremony a week later in the British embassy.

Miss Emrick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Emrick of Downers Grove, was graduated from Arlington high school. She was also graduated from nurses training and practiced for one year before leaving last May on a bicycle tour of Europe. Mr. Silk has toured Africa and was touring Europe when the couple met while skiing in the Alps at Christmastime.

The newlyweds, now traveling by themselves are hiking through Turkey and hope to go into Russia, Iran, Pakistan and India. They plan to go to Australia and work before returning to the United States via South America. Next mailing address of the couple will be Karachi, Pakistan c/o American Consul.

ON THE SUN DECK enjoying a day at sea before reaching Havana are Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Sim, 531 S. Pine, Arlington Heights, who enjoyed a 4-day cruise from Miami to Havana and Nassau on the cruise ship SS Yarmouth Castle. Historic sights of "old" and "new" Havana included the capitol building, the Prado and a cigar factory. On their list of musts in Nassau was a visit to tropical Paradise beach, seeing the sights of the quaint, old-world city while riding in a surrey through the winding streets and browsing through the many British shops.

Wayside Women Plan Annual Meeting; Final Book Review

Annual meeting of Our Lady of the Wayside Catholic Womans club, Arlington Heights, will be held Thursday, May 9, in the parish hall.

Mrs. Russell E. Gilmore, president, will open the meeting at 8:30 p.m. with reports to be given by all committee chairmen on the activities and accomplishments of their respective committees during the past year.

Election of officers for the 1957-58 club year will then be held. Newly-elected officers are to be installed at the annual communion breakfast, June 6, and plans are already being made to provide catering and baby-sitting service for that morning. Mrs. Walter Schroeder, social and membership chairman, will take early reservations after the meeting May 9.

Following the election, a film and short talk will be presented by Miss Pat Rudolph, travel counselor and woman's representative of United Airlines. Many interesting highlights of air travel will be given. With vacation time near, Mrs. Gilmore states, "it is our hope that the entire membership will take advantage of this opportunity, by attending hte final meeting of the club year and hearing first hand information about vacation planning."

Tea hostess for the evening will be Mrs. Leo J. Crossin.

LIBRARY AND literature group of the club, will hold its final book review of the season Thursday, May 16, at 8:30 p.m. in the parish library.

Mrs. Robert Bradle, chairman, invites members and their friends to hear Rev. Harold T. O'Hara review "A Distant Drum" by Charles B. Flood.

Father O'Hara, spiritual advisor of the womans club, has given several reviews for the group in the past, and the poignant story of youth, as told in this new novel, should provide exceptional material, commented Mrs. Bradle.

The library is located in the school building, 432 S. Mitchell st., Arlington Heights.

AAUW Plans Ann'l Dinner Meeting

Annual dinner meeting of Northwest suburban branch of American Association of University Women will be held Wednesday, May 15, in St. Paul Lutheran church, Mt. Prospect. Dinner will be served at 6:30 p.m. Mrs. R. E. Chandler, VA 4-5372, is in charge of reservations.

Mrs. E. G. Olsen, president, will preside over the installation of new officers. During the evening, members will present a skit and the branch choral group will sing a selection of Elizabethan lyrics. Mrs. A. R. Starr, arts chairman, is in charge of the program. (S

Garden Club Plans Annual Plant Sale

"Done in Oil"

Some folks are "done in oil" . . . from time to time. Buttered up with advertising claims carelessly bandied about. Soothed and smoothed into believing the garment they buy will always look like the dummy's in the display . . . though that's specially pinned and pressed for store window show.

Not you? Good. You're the kind of customer Hirsch wants. You're the kind of customer who appreciates guaranteed quality and will return to Hirsch year after year . . . as so many do.

We don't believe in miracles at Hirsch. We DO believe we sell better clothes for less. And we believe you like friendly service better than "oil." Open a charge account and see!

- Operators
- Service Representative Trainees

If you are a high school graduate and want steady work and pleasant surroundings with other girls like you, you may qualify for one of these fascinating jobs:

Operator

Here you'll get complete switchboard training . . . No experience necessary . . . earn full pay while you learn. It's exciting work handling long distance, information or other calls.

Service Representative Trainees

If you like to talk to people that are strong in personality this job of customer relations work is for you. You must be a high school graduate. College or business experience will be helpful but isn't necessary. Will train you at full pay, of course, for one of the most exciting jobs today's woman can hope for.

For either one of these top-notch jobs see Mrs. Berger at 106 W. Eastman st., Arlington Heights. Or if you want more information first call her on CLearbrook 5-4100.

In Other Localities

Call "Operator" and ask for the Chief Operator who will tell you about openings for operators in your area.

BUSINESS CAREER OPENING FOR YOUNG MAN IN ELGIN

This is not just a job we're offering—it is a genuine chance at a real career in one of the most dynamic, yet stable industries in the country. We're looking for a young man, 18 to 25 years old, with a good high school background, who wants the opportunity to go far with a good company.

In the beginning job you will represent the company in dealings with our customers. It is interesting and challenging work. You will be thoroughly trained, not only in your immediate job but in the whole business. If you have the ability, we will want to promote you as quickly as possible.

The starting salary is excellent. It is a 40-hour (no Saturday) week, with frequent raises and paid vacations. And again — the opportunity for advancement to higher supervisory positions is excellent.

If you are clean-cut, intelligent and ambitious, we want to talk with you. A career is waiting . . . Please call today for an interview appointment.

In Appreciation

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Henning A. Krans who passed away one year ago, May 8, 1956.
We do not lose the ones we love
They only go before
Where there is everlasting life,
Where sorrow is no more.

And there the soul will always live
And peace is everywhere;
We do not lose the ones we love
God takes them in His care.
His loving wife, Jane. (*

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear son and brother, Pfc. Herman R. Friske, who was taken away from us five years ago, May 11, in Korea.
Watch beside him, Guardian Angel
Virgin Mother, light his way;
Heart of Jesus, grant him mercy,
That's our fervent prayer each day.
May you rest in peace, dear Buddy.
Loving Mom, Dad, Sisters and Brothers (*

BEING MANAGER of a Little League baseball team has its rewards, as indicated by this scene from M-G-M's comedy, "The Great American Pastime," now at the Catlow Theatre in Barrington. Tom Ewell is the grinning manager, Brunette Ann Miller and blonde Anne Francis are the "rewards."

Ministerial Group Hears Of Religion and Medicine

An increasing interest in the mutual relationship of medicine and religion was described Monday by Professor Granger Westberg to the Northwest Suburban Ministerial assn. meeting at the St. Paul Evangelical and Reformed church, Barrington.

Dr. Westberg is head of the new department of Religion and Health under joint appointment of the Federated Theological Faculty and the School of Medicine at the University of Chicago.

ALSO present at the meeting and speaking to the general concern of religious groups about health and medical facilities were Nicholas Lattof, finance chairman of the Northwest Suburban Community Hospital center, and Harold Rose, executive officer of the organizing committee. Mr. Lattof described the history and development of the hospital program to date.

Dr. Westberg outlined the interfaith chaplaincy program as it operates in the University hospitals and suggested the need for such programs in community hospitals. Where the chaplains are encouraged to serve as part of the hospital staff rather than ministers to individual parishioners, deeper understandings of the relation between doctors and ministers develop. He suggested that research in this area is greatly needed and that doctors appreciate discussions in this area.

IN OTHER business of the ministerial association which was organized last February, including ministers from Mount Prospect, Arlington Heights, Palatine, Barrington, Lake Zurich, Wheeling, Long Grove and Elk Grove, 3 members were named to an executive committee. Serving with the Rev. Gerhard Meiners, president, and the Rev. Eugene Nymann, secretary, they are the Rev. Glenn Gumm, of Palatine, the Rev. Edwin Stevens, of Mt. Prospect, and the Rev. Paul Stumpf, of Arlington Heights.

One immediate duty forwarded to this executive committee was the supervision of the court of review of the candidates for Scouting's God and Country award in Protestant churches. (B7

Prospector 4-H Announces Plans For May Meeting

The Prospectors 4-H club met April 23 at Central school. Richard Knaack read the minutes for Bill McCabe, who was absent. Larry Oehlerking was elected treasurer.

Several talks and demonstrations have been planned for the May meeting. Demonstrations will be given by Craig Wagner on gardening; Martan Sidor on forestry; David Schneider on handicraft. Talks will be given by Ronald Hedke on "Safety on Wheels" and Richard Knaack on "Fitness for Fun."

July and August meetings will be held at Mr. Oehlerking's farm. A wiener roast and tour of the farm have also been planned.

Martin Sidor and Joe Mueller, both of Arlington Heights, were welcomed as new members. (4-H

Libertyville Teachers Put on Merit System

Libertyville - Fremont high school board members have rejected a flat pay boost for teachers and adopted a plan whereby "teachers who produce the most" will receive the greatest increases. Teachers will be judged on talent and efficiency both in and out of the classroom, the board decided.

Campus Capers

At Colorado

Barbara Baumann, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Edwin W. Baumann, 416 E. Euclid ave., was recently elected archivist of her sorority, Kappa Alpha Theta, at Colorado college.

She is a sophomore and has been a member of Kappa Alpha Theta for the past 2 years. She will take office immediately for the coming year.

Colorado college is a coeducational, liberal arts college in Colorado Springs, Colo. (CC

At Carleton

Carleton college announces that Robert Pearson, of Arlington Heights, is one of 5 senior men now completing special research honors work.

Pearson, a chemistry major, is working on "The Synthesis and Properties of tetra (trichloroethyl) rhodamine B Dye."

He is the son of Mrs. Harry Pearson, 503 N. Haddow st., Arlington Heights. (CC

At Dubuque

Joseph Campbell, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Campbell, 41 S. Ridge, Arlington Heights, has been named co-editor of the Cueq, the Dubuque university school newspaper. Joe is a sophomore at the university, where he is a member of Mu Sigma Beta fraternity. (CC

At Blackburn

Marybeth Born, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Born, 1007 E. Olive, Arlington Heights, has been invited to be in the queen's court at annual Class day ceremonies on the campus of Blackburn college, Carlinville, Ill.

The court is traditionally composed of 18 freshman women, participants being selected on the basis of scholastic ability, participation in campus activities, personality and appearance.

At Denison

Charlene Hagberg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Hagberg, 219 Hi-Lusi ave., Mt. Prospect, is appearing in the annual spring performance of the Dance club at Denison university, Granville, Ohio, where she is a sophomore. She will dance in "The Sharper" (Chambers) and "The Thirteen Clocks" (from the story by James Thurber). The performance, which was given May 1 and 2, is being repeated May 11.

At Grinnell

Ellsworth Whitney, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Whitney of 805 Greenview, Itasca, a member of the Grinnell college Air Force ROTC detachment, has in the last week been awarded 2 medals, promoted in rank, and assigned to a position of leadership in the cadet corps.

At an honors review, he was awarded the Iowa Society Sons of the American Revolution "Minute Man Medal," for "a high degree of merit with respect to leadership, military bearing, and excellence in the academic course of study." This is the highest award made to a basic cadet. At the review he was also awarded a second year marksmanship medal for service and high marksmanship as a member of the Grinnell AFROTC rifle team.

IN ADDITION to these awards, Whitney was promoted to the rank of cadet technical sergeant from his former rank of cadet airman second class, and was assigned the duties of sergeant major of the cadet group for the remainder of the school year.

A sophomore at Grinnell, Whitney is a 1955 graduate of Bensenville Community high school.

At Illinois Wesleyan

Tom Hawk Jr. son of Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Hawk Sr. of Arlington Heights, recently wrote and directed a one-act play entitled "TV." This play was produced as part of the Contemporary Arts Festival in dramatics at Illinois Wesleyan university.

Tom is a junior in the school of dramatics. (CC

America's Press Guards Freedom

One significant reason why the newspaper reader in this country can expect to get a straighter story than his counterpart behind the iron curtain is disclosed by Prof. Serge L. Lavitsky of Fordham university in an article in the winter edition of Journalism Quarterly magazine.

In the United States, whenever freedom of the press seems endangered, journalists turn to the Constitution for protection.

IN SOVIET RUSSIA, by contrast, the constitution is used as an instrument of suppression. Penalties for "the wrong kind of free press," the author points out, range from fines of a few hundred rubles to "the highest measure of social defense"—death.

Levitsky is an assistant professor in the Institute of Contemporary Russian studies at Fordham, and is writing a book on the Soviet press.

The tip-off to the Russian idea of freedom, he writes, comes in Article 125 of the Soviet constitution.

It guarantees freedom of the press—bue "in conformity with the interests of the working people and in order to strengthen the socialist system."

The communist party, as the "leading core" of the workers, decides what printed matter is in conformity with those interests.

THE CLAUSE concerning the "strengthening of the socialist system" shows perhaps the most crucial difference between Russian and American ideas on a free press.

Freedom to criticize our own government is held sacred in this country. In contrast, Levitsky quotes the Russian conception of criticism as expressed by Andrei Vyshinsky, Soviet political leader:

"In (Russia), naturally, there is no place, nor can there be any, for freedom of speech, press and so on for the foes of socialism. Every sort of attempt on their part to utilize it to the detriment of the State . . . must be classified as a counter-revolutionary crime to which the provisions of the Criminal Code are applicable."

The Soviet criminal code carries 11 articles dealing with punishments of violations of freedom of the press.

The only type of criticism allowed is that which is directed at minor officials accused of failure to carry out avowed Communist aims. (CC

At Carroll College

Roger Thomas, 120 E. Maple Arlington Heights, will be one of 14 pre-engineering students from Carroll college attending an all-day conference May 3 at Illinois Institute of Technology.

Pre-engineering students from 29 midwest liberal arts colleges will meet to discuss aspects of the IIT combined education program.

Thomas, a junior at Carroll, will participate in work-shop discussions of aspects of the IIT program and will tour the Armour research foundation's nuclear reactor. The son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Thomas, he is a graduate of Arlington high school and attended Beloit college before enrolling at Carroll. (CC

At Illinois

Cadets Neil K. Barr Jr., 201 S. Belmont, and Mark S. Creviston Jr., 717 N. Pine, both of Arlington Heights and Cadet Richard R. Florey, 148 W. Johnson st., Palatine, who are in the Army Reserve Officers Training corps at the University of Illinois have been designated "distinguished military cadets" by Col. Paul W. Steinbeck, professor of military science and tactics.

Designation as a distinguished cadet entitles them on graduation to apply for a commission in the Regular Army instead of the reserve commission usually conferred on all graduates of advanced ROTC.

At Navy Pier

A total of 395 University of Illinois students will receive recognition for scholastic achievement May 10 at the annual honors day convocation in Navy Pier auditorium.

This is the first time that students have participated in an academic procession at the Navy Pier campus.

Purpose is to give public recognition to those students ranking in the upper 10 per cent of their class.

Among those receivin¼ sophomore class honors from this area are Franz A. Burnier, 516 Fairview, Arlington Heights, and Christ E. Larsen, 515 Grove st., Bensenville.

John E. Igoe, 1334 E. Northwest Hy, Arlington Heights, will receive freshman honors. (CC

At Beloit

Ada Kilbury, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Kilbury, 1011 N. Illinois, Arlington Heights, will be featured in the vocal ensemble at the Beloit college spring music recital. Ada is a member of Delta Gamma, a national social sorority. (CC

At Grinnell

Roy Schroeder, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy G. Schroeder of Bensenville, a member of the Grinnell college Air Force ROTC detachment, was awarded a cadet aviation badge in an honors review this week. The badge, a half-wing, signifies that he is qualified for flying training in the Air Force.

A second lieutenant in the cadet corps, Schroeder is a January, 1954, graduate of Lane Technical high school, Chicago.

At Wisconsin

Joan Fischer, 610 S. Mitchell st., Arlington Heights, was among 57 swimmers of the University of Wisconsin's Dolphin club who recently presented their annual swim show, "Swim Time on Broadway," on the UW campus.

The Dolphin club is the co-ed swimmers' organization at Wisconsin which each year sponsors its colorful swimming pageant, the proceeds from which go into scholarship funds for outstanding women students. (CC

At Upper Iowa

Gerald A. McElroy, sports writer for Cook County Herald, was recently elected vice-president of the Alumni club of Upper Iowa University, Fayette, Iowa. He graduated from Upper Iowa in 1927.

Members of the Club are all alumni and former students from Upper Iowa living in Illinois. There are approximately 200 members.

Tentative plans for club projects include furnishing a room in the new boy's dormitory or buying equipment for various departments, and arranging the annual coffee hour each year in Illinois. Also a dinner for the Illinois students on the campus is being sponsored by the club.

At Mexico City

Thomas E. Griffith, son of C. L. Griffith, P. O. Box 353, Arlington Heights, has just been placed on the Dean's Honor List at Mexico City college for the first time.

To appear on this list indicates that the student ranks very high scholastically and is outstanding in his academic work.

Less than seven per sent of the student body has sufficiently high grades to be put on this honor roll. (CC

At Illinois Wesleyan

Earl Hieber, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Hieber, 2500 Campbell, Arlington Heights, has been elected chaplain of Acacia Colony, a new national social fraternity at Illinois Wesleyan university, Bloomington.

A sophomore at the university, Hieber is taking a course in religion. (CC

...Confucius would have said:

海边大酒店 芝城

...which means "Edgewater Beach Hotel in Chicago". And if you'll follow wise epicures advice — you'll savor the meal of your occidental life in the oriental glamor of its famous Polynesian Village. Exotic foods and spectacular drinks . . . at realistic prices . . . amid the authentic atmosphere of the Far East. You'll agree there's nothing this side of Samoa like the food and charm of the Polynesian Village. Expensive? Of course not! You can enjoy a complete Luau Feast for only $4.75.
